DINNER WARE
Of Known Worth.

The name of Chas. Field Haviland is a standard for exceptional quality as well as a warrant for great artistic beauty in the China world and it is this absolute certainty of satisfaction that induced us to secure the exclusive sale of the product for the City of Newport and vicinity. We carry at all times a most extensive line of this China as well as other well known French makes.

The individuality of our English patterns and their exquisite colorings are readily apparent to those who know. The hard and fast rule of "Quality first, last and always" is rigidly adhered to year in and out by these conscientious manufacturers. Originality of shapes is also a strong factor that enables them to retain their well-earned leadership.

We Carry No Domestic China Whatsoever.

In all some forty different patterns are represented in Our China Ware Stock which comes from only the best makers—makers of a recognized high standing in their chosen lines.

A pleasant surprise is certainly in store for those folks who have not yet become acquainted with this important department of the Titus store.

APPROPRIATION BILLS SET ASIDE.

Senate Takes Up Permanent Tariff Board Measure.

Democrats Disclaim Responsibility for the Result.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Within half an hour after convening at 11 o'clock today, the senate had decided, by the positive vote of 55 to 23, to set aside the appropriations bills and take up the bill creating a permanent tariff board. The motion looking to such a course was made by Senator Hale, who heretofore has opposed the consideration of the bill, and was in pursuance of the agreement made among the Republicans Tuesday in order to obtain a vote on the Lorimer resolution. Senator Bulkeley of Connecticut was the only Republican to cast a vote against the motion, while Democrats voted with the Republicans for consideration.

While they still deny that there is a filibuster in progress on the bill, the Democrats in the Senate today made it clear that they would continue their fight against the measure for an indefinite period. Senators Simmons of North Carolina and Shively of Indiana became engaged in a colloquy with Senator Smoot of Utah, which developed just what the situation is. The Republicans apparently have determined to let all the appropriation bills wait until action is assured on the tariff board. The Democrats said they desired to bring that fact conclusively to the front. Mr. Smoot admitted that there was an understanding whereby the tariff board bill would not be displaced as the "unfinished business before the senate."

Senator Smith of South Carolina spoke for more than an hour against the tariff board. Senator Shively followed him and there were other Democratic senators apparently ready to take the floor.

With evident confidence that the proposition would be rejected, some of the Democratic Senators in private proposed to the Republicans who were pressing for a vote on the tariff board bill that the Canadian reciprocity agreement be accepted as a rider. The minority said that then they would consent to a vote upon the measure during the day. As they expected, the Republicans would not listen to this suggestion.

Then the Democrats proposed to enter into a joint agreement for a vote at 2 o'clock on the tariff board bill and a vote at 3 o'clock on Canadian reciprocity. The Republicans would not consent to this proposal. They took the position that either of these suggestions would be in conflict with the agreement which they made, by which the tariff board bill became the unfinished business.

Partisan feeling and bad blood were manifested to a more marked degree than at any time in the present session. Everybody appreciated that the complicated situation made certain the calling of an extra session. Privately the Democrats confessed that they were engaged in a filibuster, which they planned to keep up until the Republicans were forced to lay aside the unfinished business or abandon appropriation bills. The more extreme of the Democratic leaders were quite willing that there should be an extra session and said they were not averse to having the next Congress pass on the appropriation bills.

The conservative element on the Republican side was disposed, however, to the opinion that there would be an adjustment, under which appropriations bills at least would receive final consideration. Insistent upon the passage of the tariff board bill because of Tuesday's compact, man yof the Republicans declared they would proceed with it throughout the day and the night if necessary to put it through. The best opinion among Republicans was that the measure would be kept before the Senate long enough to demonstrate that the Democrats would not permit it to come to a vote, and that appropriations bill then would be taken up.

Senator Hale's motion came after a discussion concerning the order of business begun by Senator Money of Mississippi, chairman of the Democratic caucus. Disclaiming any intention on the part of himself or his fellow-Democrats to filibuster, he said he and all the members of his party felt the great necessity of coming immediately to the consideration of the appropriation bills, in order to prevent an extra session of Congress. Mr. Money then made the formal proposition that the appropriation bills should be taken up forthwith, with the understanding that they were to be disposed of before any other legislation should be undertaken.

"If," he said, "the Senators on the other side want to see the government provided with the funds necessary to carry on its business for the next fiscal year, they will agree to this proposition. It rests entirely with them. The public will absolve the Democrats of all responsibility. Granting, as it is claimed, that there is a good purpose behind the effort to get up other legislation, we must all remember the old saying that 'Hell is paved with good intentions,' and I may add that I know of no roadway that is better paved than that leading to Congress."

At this point Mr. Smoot, who was especially active in promoting the agreement to take up the tariff board bill as a concession for a vote on the Lorimer resolution, interrupted Mr. Money with an inquiry as to the purpose of the Democrats with reference to the tariff measures. He asked if it were not possible that the Senate could agree to a time to vote on that bill by 12 o'clock tomorrow.

"Then it would seem," said Mr. Money in response, "that my proposition is to receive no consideration whatever. I have asked that we proceed immediately with the appropriation bills, of which there are eight left, in the belief that they can all be passed upon before adjournment. The suggestion of the Senator from Utah negatives everything that I have said. If the appropriation measures are to pass they ought to receive first consideration. That is the disposition on this side."

Mr. Hale suggested that it might be possible to consider other measures than appropriation bills, if nothing more than a roll-call should be neces-

SENATE APPROVES THE PENSION BILL.

Passes Republican and Not Democratic Resolution.

Proposition for Biennial Sessions of the Assembly.

[Special despatch to The News.]

PROVIDENCE, March 2.—The legislature did little today, but in the Senate the Sullowaay pension bill was approved, not by the passage of the resolution left on the president's desk by adjournment after the warm contest of yesterday, but by a resolution which had its birth in the house and has since been reposing in custody of a committee. Senator McKenna, who introduced the bill yesterday, seconded the motion for immediate consideration today, and in so doing said that probably the reason why his bill did not go through was because he presented it, the inference to be drawn being that Mr. McKenna being a Democrat, even though the Republicans believed in his sentiments on the pension matter they could not officially approve them.

Remonstrances against and approval of the proposed milk laws were received from farmers in various parts of the state.

In the senate Senator Sanborn reported back the house bill asking the state's representatives in Congress to aid in the passage of the Sullaway pension bill, and asked for immediate consideration. Senator McKenna seconded the motion and the bill was passed without an objection being heard.

Biennial sessions of the General Assembly are provided for in a resolution proposing an amendment to the constitution introduced by Senator McKenna. The resolution combines the biennial elections provision with the biennial session plan.

Senator Wilbur reported back the act of incorporation of the Merchants Freezing and Cold Storage company. Placed on the calendar.

Senator Clarke of Jamestown, for the committee on fisheries, reported an amendment to the fish laws, providing for the commission on inland fisheries to procure data on the number of nets and other apparatus used by fishermen. Placed on the calendar.

Senator Gorton of Pawtucket presented an act increasing the capital stock of the Hope Webbing Company of that city from $70,000 to $2,000,000. Referred to the committee on corporations.

Senator Bennett of Woonsocket introduced a resolution providing for the publication of the thirty-second volume of Rhode Island reports. Referred to the committee on finance.

From the calendar were taken and passed the amendments to the charters of the Blackstone and Merchants mutual fire insurance companies.

In the house Mr. Franklin reported an act amending the law on surety companies. Placed on the calendar.

Mr. Cooney presented many petitions for the abolishment of the property qualifications act.

Mr. West of Providence introduced an act to provide a uniformed police force at the State House. Referred to the committee on judiciary.

Mr. Littlefield of New Shoreham reported back an act for the better protection of the oyster. Placed on the calendar.

Mr. Cutler of Providence, presented a petition, signed by milk raisers, asking for the passage of the milk legislation before the Assembly.

Mr. Richmond of Hopkinton presented an act providing for the extension of the state highways in that town. Referred to the finance committee.

Mr. Head of Jamestown presented a petition of L. W. Hall and others, remonstrating against the passage of the proposed milk laws.

Mr. Littlefield of Providence presented an amendment to the factory law, which provides that messenger boys working between the hours of 10 p. m. and 5 a. m. shall not be under 21 years of age. Referred to the committee on special legislation.

Mr. Marshall of Cumberland introduced an act empowering the parents of school children to purchase the text-books which their children use in school. Referred to the committee on education.

Mr. Marshall also presented the remonstrance of 21 farmers against the proposed milk legislation.

Mr. Davis of Glocester reported an act providing $2,000 extra for a third assistant attorney general. Placed on the calendar.

From the calendar were taken and passed acts incorporating the Providence Charitable Fuel Association and the Rhode Island Country Club, the bill for 15 Episcopalians to incorporate a parish, and the bill of George E. Barrett for services as janitor of the Kent County court house.

EXTRA SESSION ALMOST CERTAIN.

Only Approval of Reciprocity Can Prevent It.

President Taft Will Call It Earlier Than April 4.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The last vestige of doubt that an extraordinary session of Congress will be called by President Taft to consider the Canadian reciprocity agreement, in the now practically certain event of the failure of that measure in the present Congress, disappeared today, when it became known that Republican leaders had been called to the White House for a consultation. "The die is cast," said one of the Republican Senators after returning to the Capitol. "Mr. Taft has decided that there must be an extra session and that he will call it earlier than April 4."

Democratic leaders desired a month in which to make ready for a special session and President Taft was inclined to accede to their wishes. It became known today, however, that the Republicans favored an earlier gathering, if there was no way to avoid coming back. Mr. Taft would be guided, it was said, by the wishes of the Republicans favored an earlier that a conference will be held on the subject, probably Monday, to decide upon a date. March 20 was the date most talked about today at the Capitol.

Friends of the Canadian agreement felt confident that the Democratic House will pass the bill within a week after the convening of the special session. It was suggested today that Representative McCall's name will not be carried on the bill, but that some Democrat on the new committee on ways and means will claim the right to report the measure and take charge of it on the floor.

There was an impression also that the Senate will not delay action more than a month. This theory was based upon the argument that the Republican Senate will expedite business in order to be ready to adjourn before the Democratic House can submit a general program for tariff revision, in the hope that under such a condition of affairs the Democrats will be willing to postpone their tariff revision plans until next winter, when they will be better prepared to proceed. However, this opinion was founded only on theory. Anything might happen, the leaders said.

Leaders on both sides of the House regard an extra session as inevitable. Republican Whip John W. Dwight of New York, who all along has believed a way would be found to avoid an extra session, confessed his belief that it is unavoidable. Mr. Underwood of Alabama, who will be chairman of the tariff-making ways and means committee of the next Congress, thought it doubtful that the Senate bills and regarded an extra session as certain.

"WHITE PAPER" TO BE ISSUED.

England to Soon Give Out Ambassador's Report on Reciprocity.

LONDON, March 2.—So persistent have been the attempts of the tariff reformers in the House of Commons to ascertain how far the British government and Ambassador Bryce were involved in the American-Canadian reciprocity negotiations, that the government has decided to issue soon a "white paper" on the subject, including the ambassador's report of the whole matter. The tariff party charge that the British government engineered Canadian consent to reciprocity with the United States, in order to spike the guns of imperial preference. Another batch of questions was made at today's session but beyond saying that the action of the ambassador at Washington had the approval of the government, Sir Edward Grey refused to discuss the subject piecemeal. The foreign secretary proposed, he said, to defer further statements until the "white paper" had been issued.

BAILEY SUCCEEDS LODGE.

Senate Surprised at Change in Charge of Tariff Board Bill.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—The Senate had one of the surprises of its life tonight when it discovered that the bill to create a permanent tariff board, the House measure which Mr. Lodge fathered at the request of President Taft, was no longer in the control of the Senator from Massachusetts. The discovery created an unusual situation and immediately became the text of animated inquiries. The disclosure of Mr. Lodge's strange defection came when Senator Beveridge moved further consideration of the bill, thus indicating that he himself was in charge of it.

Then came a rare bit of bazing, beginning with some facetious comments by Senator Stone of Missouri, the situation became serious when Senator Money of Mississippi, the minority leader, demanded an explanation. Finally he moved that the bill be recommitted to the committee on finance, in the hope of clarifying the situation. This motion failed by a vote of 22 to 51.

Before this action was taken Senators Beveridge and Lodge endeavored to explain their positions. The latter said that he had been interested in the question of creating a permanent tariff board for many years.

Senator Lodge, with some show of reluctance, finally confessed that surrendering the conduct of the bill to Senator Beveridge was a part of the agreement yesterday by which the Senate fixed a time for voting on the Lorimer case and made the tariff board the unfinished business.

Mr. Money moved an agreement to make the commission a Congressional body instead of a permanent commission to be appointed by the President. The amendment was rejected, 23 to 48.

Mr. Bailey sought to have stricken from the bill the section which empowered the commission to inspect the books of corporations and associations and provided for the submission to Congress of refusals to produce books or papers demanded by the commission. Disclaiming, as he had previously done, any intention to filibuster, Senator Bailey finally closed his discussion and the ayes and nees on his amendment showed its defeat, 25 to 37.

FIXES PAY OF MILITIAMEN.

Bill Introduced by Representative Steenerson Passed by House.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—The Steenerson military pay bill was passed by the House today by a vote of 159 to 124. The bill provides that militia officers in the various states shall receive from 5 to 20 per cent of the pay of officers of similar grade in the regular army. The pay of privates is fixed at 25 per cent of the regular army scale.

One of the conditions imposed on any one accepting pay under the proposed act is an agreement to render military service to the United States "during any period for which he may be called into such service," not to exceed two years.

The bill has not been acted upon by the Senate.

MITCHELL RESIGNS.

Leaves Civic Federation Under Pressure from Mine Workers.

NEW YORK, March 1.—John Mitchell, former head of the United Mine Workers of America and lately chairman of the trade agreement department of the National Civic Federation, today made public his resignation of the office and membership in the latter organization. It was also announced that President Seth Low of the Civic Federation has accepted the resignation, to take effect at the close of the present month.

Mr. Mitchell's severance of relations with the Civic Federation follows the attitude recently taken by the United Mine Workers of America in declaring that any member of their organization accepting a position with the National Civic Federation would thereby forfeit membership in the union. His letter of resignation says, in part:

"It is needless to say that I regret the action of the miners' convention, not so much because it requires me to choose between the two organizations as because of the unfair and gratuitous attack upon the National Civic Federation, which, in addition to its many other useful public activities, has stood consistently as an advocate of righteous industrial peace."

President Low in his acceptance of the resignation said:

"Under the circumstance, I think the course you have taken is both natural and proper. On behalf of the National Civic Federation I therefore accept your resignation from the executive council and from the organization itself, and release you from your contract as chairman of the trade agreement department of the Federation. All to take effect on March 31, 1911.

"It should be known, however, that you have offered your resignation from the National Civic Federation in the face of a specific proposal on the part of the Federation to renew its contract with you for another term of three years."

In accepting the resignation Mr. Low pays a tribute to the value of Mr. Mitchell's work for industrial peace, in bringing about a better understanding between employers and employes in all sorts of directions, and in giving a better understanding of the workmen's point of view on many questions of vital interest.

COX STRIKES AT JUDGE.

Ohio Boss Makes New Move in Fighting Indictments.

CINCINNATI, March 1.—George B. Cox took the first step in his fight against the indictments charging him with perjury, when he filed today in the court of common pleas an affidavit charging Judge Frank M. Gorman with "bias and prejudice." Judge Gorman has been presiding over the criminal branch of the court and directing the work of the grand jury which indicted Cox and several other officials and contractors.

Prosecuting Attorney Hunt announced a few days ago that he expected to bring the charges against Cox to trial within a fortnight. In that event the case would have come before Judge Gorman, whose term as judge of the criminal court will expire April 1.

The object of the affidavit is to "swear the judge of the bench." While recent Ohio decisions make it mandatory upon the judge so sworn against to vacate, Prosecutor Hunt said today that he would resist this effect of Cox's affidavit.

BIG MILL MERGER PLANNED.

Boston Men to Consolidate Nine Properties in South Carolina.

BOSTON, March 1.—Plans are being made by Boston financiers to consolidate nine cotton mill properties in South Carolina. The mills are the Victor, Monaghan, Apache, Greers, Olympia, Granby, Richland, Capital City and Beaver Dam Mills, all situated in the vicinity of Columbia and Greenville. The consolidated company is capitalized at $10,000,000. The nine plants have a total of 357,952 spindles.

This aggregate of mills, with present capitalization of $7,871,700, had a spindleage of 357,952. This places the new combination among the biggest mills or groups of mills of the country. This spindleage compares with a total of 510,000 spindles in the group of mills embraced in the New England Cotton Yarn Company, approximately 500,000 for Amoskeag, which, however, has also a worsted department using 18,000,000 pounds of wool annually.

Among Boston interests who are proposed for the board of directors of the new company are Robert E. Herrick, Thomas Motley of Curtis & Sanger, and R. P. Snelling of the Sea-Pettee Company. It is understood that officials of the Draper Company are also interested in the new combination.

WESTERN ROADS YIELD.

Accept Rate Ruling of Interstate Commerce Commission as Final.

CHICAGO, March 1.—Thirty-five Western railroads decided today not to appeal from the recent decision by the Interstate Commerce Commission, leaving the roads the right to increase freight rates. They will accept the decree of the commission as final.

The decision was reached at a meeting of representatives of the roads at the Western Trunk Line Association headquarters here. The opinion was advanced by many that the roads will be unable to make any stronger showing before the new commerce court than they had before the commission, and that once the new court had ruled its decree would be binding for two years.

It also was argued that if the roads comply with the decree without objection, and withdraw the advanced tariffs before March 10, there will be an opportunity at a later date to submit advances in certain rates, some of which may meet with favor.

NAVAL APPROPRIATIONS.

Increases Made by Senate Committee for Equipment, Public Works and the Academy.

Increases which aggregate $1,190,138.24 were made by the Senate committee on naval affairs in the naval appropriation bill. As reported the bill carries $126,400,838.24, while when passed by the House its appropriations totaled $125,210,138.24. The estimates for 1912, on which the bill is based, were $120,045,659.24, and they have been overstepped by the Senate committee. Increases have been made in the appropriations for the bureau of equipment, public works, the Naval Academy and in the increase of pay.

An amendment, which leaves the law as at present, makes the eight-hour provision of the bill apply only to the building of the two battleships authorized. As inserted by the House it extended to four submarines. The Stanley amendment, intended to prevent the purchase of armor or armament from the United States Steel Corporation by forbidding the giving of the contract to a corporation in a combination to deprive the government of unrestricted competition, is retained in the bill.

Five new vessels are added in amendments made by the Senate committee: a submarine tender, cost limit $500,000, of which $250,000 is appropriated; two river gunboats exclusive of armor and armament, one to cost $500,000, and the other $215,000, and two seagoing tugs, $215,000 each.

Appropriation is made to cover the increased cost of battleship Florida by reason of her construction in a navy yard under the eight-hour law. Provision is made for the rendezvous of the visiting foreign fleets coming for the Panama Exposition to be held at Hampton Roads.

The limit of the collier authorized in 1910, and not yet constructed for want of bidders is increased $200,000 to $1,200,000. In place of the House provisions authorizing the Secretary of the Navy to prepare plans and estimates for the Paul Jones crypt at the Naval Academy chapel an appropriation of $75,000 is made to start its construction.

It was proposed in the committee to appropriate $357,500 to transfer the floating drydock to Guantanamo for emergency use and in this way to begin the building up of this station as an adjunct in defending the Panama canal. This amendment was lost as was another authorizing the Secretary of the Navy to make the transfer of drydocks when desirable.

Hereafter the Secretary of the Navy may furnish free light and heat for Young Men's Christian Association buildings at navy yards and stations. The detail of naval officers to the hydrographic office is continued. The Senate committee has stricken out the House provision that no part of the appropriation for coal shall be used to transfer coal from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and an authorization to purchase coal on the Pacific from British Columbia when the price is right.

Under another amendment a chief of bureau is to have, after 25 years while on the active list the highest rank, title and pay of a rear admiral, and be entitled to a new commission after 28 years' service, being carried as an additional number, and to have that rank on retirement and three fourths pay of that grade.

SCARLET FEVER

HOUSEHOLDERS CAUTIONED.

How to Avoid Contagion.

Scarlet Fever is prevalent. The use of a reliable disinfectant protects the household. The last thing at night pour into the traps of the closets, washbasins, sinks, etc. Just a little Platt's Chlorides. Places where disease germs may develop, nooks behind plumbing and all spots that can't be reached by the scrubbing brush should be freely sprinkled with a mixture of one (1) part of Platt's Chlorides and ten (10) parts of water. This dilution costs less than 5 cents a quart. Do not neglect a liberal sprinkling of the cellar. To remove objectionable odors where sprinkling is inadvisable, keep a cloth or sponge moistened with the dilution mentioned. A little extra care just now may prevent much sickness and expense. Platt's Chlorides is an odorless, colorless liquid disinfectant which instantly destroys foul odors and disease-breeding matter. It is sold by druggists everywhere in full quart bottles, and is prepared only by Henry B. Platt.

Ask Our Competitors to Show You Prairie State Value in Their Incubators.

We mean by this that in the Prairie State we offer you an incubator proposition that for valuable features, features that count in successful chicken raising, cannot be duplicated by any machine on the market.

Let our expert tell you why the components of Prairie State Incubators: the Moist Sand Tray, the Ventilating System, the Radiation and Circulation, the Thermostat and new Cooling Slide all make for successful incubation and a high percentage of healthy chickens. Get him to give you statistics, facts, authentic tests, then compare with the others. Base your judgment on what you find and you will see at once that the Prairie State employs sound, practical common-sense methods derived from actual experience and not available in the others.

Prairie State Brooders show the same high-grade construction and careful attention to the problem of meeting the various conditions incident to the care of chickens.

The Prairie State Catalog will help you familiarize yourself with this incubator.

ODD FELLOWS' ENCAMPMENT.

Reports Presented and Officers Installed at the Annual Session in Pawtucket.

The annual session of the Grand Encampment of Rhode Island, I. O. O. F., in Pawtucket Wednesday, was largely attended, all the 14 Encampments of the state being represented. Grand Patriarch J. Roswell Chase of this city presided.

The reports of the year show 14 active Encampments and a total membership December 31, 1910, of 1,094, of whom 1,074 are contributing and 20 non-contributing members.

Grand Patriarch Chase presented his annual report, which reviewed the work of the order during the past year, together with an account of his official visitations and acts. He urged that the members of the subordinate lodges manifest more interest in the patriarchal branch and lend their assistance to recruiting the latter branch and to promote the interests in this jurisdiction.

Grand Representatives Daniel P. Burdick and Fred W. Folsom reported on the work of the Sovereign Grand Lodge, and the condition and growth of the order.

Grand Scribe William H. T. Mosley presented the statistical report of the order, showing 1,094 members in the state, financial receipts of $26,006.63, disbursements $4,876.30, net assets December 31, 1910, $21,130.33.

The full list of officers installed for the year is as follows:

Grand Patriarch—Joseph M. Metcalf of Mazeppa Encampment, Providence.

Grand High Priest—Ralph Mayor of Narragansett Encampment, Providence.

Grand Senior Warden—Walter H. McKay of Moshassuck Encampment, Providence.

Grand Junior Warden—Austin Poole.

Grand Scribe—William H. T. Mosley of Moshassuck Encampment, Providence.

Grand Treasurer—Thomas H. Holden of Howard Encampment, Riverpoint.

Grand Marshal—Kirtland H. Wilson of Massasoit Encampment, Warren.

Grand Sentinel—Robert C. Hale of Mazeppa Encampment, Providence.

Deputy Grand Sentinel—Herbert A. Pierson of Manchester Encampment, Pawtucket.

Grand Representative—J. Roswell Chase of Aquidneck Encampment, Newport.

Past Grand Patriarch Allen C. Griffith of this city was appointed a member of the committee on appeals.

Friedolph A. Bloom of this city was appointed district deputy grand patriarch for district No. 4, including encampment Nos. 8 and 9, and George H. Crane, Jr., district deputy for district No. 5, including Aquidneck Encampment of this city.

PONTOONS WILL BE USED.

Arbuckle Engineers Find Now Obstacles in Latest Attempt to Float Cruiser Yankee.

The Arbuckle engineers who are preparing for the latest attempt to float cruiser Yankee, long submerged in Buzzard's bay, have found new obstacles to early success. It has developed that not only was the spar deck of the cruiser blown out December 7, 1909, when the last attempt to raise the cruiser was made, but that a 15-foot section of the gun deck was also forced out. This has been found to have so weakened the submerged cruiser that it is practically impossible to pump compressed air between the lower and second decks, as originally planned.

It has now been definitely decided to rely for lifting power upon pontoons, which will supply a buoyancy of about 1,500 tons, the amount estimated to be necessary to float the craft. The lower or berth deck is not injured, but to place all the compressed air in the lower part of the vessel would not be advantageous. Wrecking steamer Roosevelt, formerly Commander Peary's Arctic vessel, has gone to New York to take the pontoons to New Bedford.

PORTSMOUTH.

Large Attendance at the Mothers' Meeting—Results of the School Census.

[Regular correspondence of The News.]

The mothers' meeting held at the home of the president of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union was largely attended, the interest of mothers in the subject being attested by the presence of a number not usually affiliating with the Union. The speaker, Miss Ellen Winslow of Springfield, Mass., is a representative of the New England Quarterly Meeting of Friends and sent out by that body. She opened the meeting by reading a few verses of Scripture, and Mrs. James M. Estes offered prayer. Miss Winslow's subject was "Moral Education" and her address was replete with information and practical suggestions. Being a school teacher of long experience, she was able to illustrate her points with instances coming under her own observation, the mothers present feeling that her instruction was helpful, giving them much to consider.

Three musical numbers were given, with Mrs. Greene as pianist. The first was a solo, "Lovest Thou Me?" by Mrs. William H. Chase, Jr.; the second a duet, "Sweet, Sunny Smiles," by Mrs. Richard R. Macomber and Mrs. William T. H. Sowle; the last, "The Crusade Glory Song," by Mrs. William Lawrence. Light refreshments were served. Miss Winslow was guest of Mrs. John S. Kimber of Newport, who accompanied her to the meeting.

Mr. Herbert M. Ayler, school census enumeration, reports as follows: Number of boys attending public schools, [illegible]; 16 years of age and over, 14; girls, [illegible]; 16 years and over, 10; total in public schools, 388.

Boys attending parochial schools, 1; girls, 3; total 4. Boys attending other private schools, 9; 16 years and over, [illegible]; girls, 8; 16 years and over, 3; total in private schools 17.

Boys not attending any school, 71; 16 years and over, 18; girls, 58; 16 years and over, 10; total not in any school, 129.

Whole number of boys enumerated, 249; girls, 264; total, 513.

Miss Gertrude E. Macomber and Miss Agnes Smiley will leave Deland, Fla., Saturday, reaching New York March 7, where they will stop a few days with a friend, returning to Portsmouth about March 10.

Services were held at St. Paul's Church Wednesday morning in commemoration of Ash Wednesday.

The masquerade ball given at Oakland hall for the benefit of Oakland Lodge, I. O. O. F., was largely attended and the crowd would have been far greater if the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of Eureka Lodge of Masons had not fallen on the same night. The grand march was led by Frank Chase as a clown and Miss Susanna Allen as a colored woman.

Miss Sarah Harticon, teacher at the Vaughan school, has been guest of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Hughes.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. S. Allen and child of Tiverton Four Corners are visiting relatives in this vicinity.

THE ENTRANCE TO NEWPORT.

Citizens Urged to Call Attention of Railroad Authorities to Need of New Station.

(Civic League Bulletin.)

In these days when so much is being said and written on the subject of city planning and the great importance of making the approaches to every city as attractive as possible, the citizens of Newport cannot fail to look upon the insignificant railroad station at the foot of Marlborough street with feelings of mingled shame and disgust. Wherever one goes, whether to large city or small town, he invariably finds a station far more attractive and more adequate for the service of the travelling public than the one in his own home.

In the neighboring city of Providence, there is a spacious, convenient building—so well located, with an open plaza in front, laid out with shrubs and decorated with statues and fountains, and a large and dignified public building at either end of the open space, that it is considered the best approach to any city of the United States, with the single exception of Washington. In Newport, the view that greets the newly arrived traveler as he looks over the grassless basin lot towards a row of unsightly small houses and a gaily colored billboard is not likely to make his first impression of the city a pleasant one or to give him a high opinion of the existing standards of civic beauty.

To compare small things with great is, doubtless, to have one's point of view misunderstood. It is self evident that Newport is not a junction point nor the centre of a large suburban service, and that a spacious and elaborate station would be ill adapted to local conditions. Convenience and attractiveness are, however, essential qualities for such a building, and what Newport needs is a station suited to the size of the city, adequately furnished, and of sufficient architectural beauty to give a dignified entrance to a place so widely known and famed for its natural attractions.

The Bulletin has repeatedly tried to arouse public interest in this matter, and once more urges the citizens to bring to the attention of the railroad authorities this imperative need for improvement.

MOVEMENTS OF WARSHIPS.

Cruiser Tennessee left New Orleans Wednesday for New York, where she is expected to arrive about March 7. She will remain at New York until March 15, when the Fifth division will proceed to Hampton Roads to join the Atlantic fleet for battle practice.

Scout cruisers Chester and Salem left New Orleans today for Pensacola, Fla., for torpedo exercise. March 10 these vessels will proceed to Hampton Roads, arriving about March 12.

Torpedo boat destroyers Paulding, Drayton, Roe, Terry, Pluraer, Smith, Lamson and Preston will leave Key West in time to arrive at Hampton Roads about March 12. The final trials of the Roe, the Paulding and the Terry will be held some time during the 10 days preceding these dates: The Roe, March 24; the Paulding, April 6, and the Terry, April 21. The trials will be held in the neighborhood of the Virginia Capes.

PRUSSIA'S GAIN IN POPULATION.

The largest gain of German population, both actually and relatively, was in the kingdom of Prussia. The increase there was considerably more than two and three-quarters millions, or more than 7.7 per cent. Prussia thus now contains more than 61.8 per cent of the entire population of the empire, and is steadily increasing that percentage. Her political and economical preponderance over all the rest of the empire is therefore apparently assured.

PERSONALS.

....Charles D. Norton, whose resignation as secretary to President Taft has been announced, will assume the duties of a vice president of the First National Bank, New York, at an early date.

....Admiral Sir Assheton Gore Curzon-Howe, commander-in-chief at Portsmouth, England, was stricken with paralysis and died. Admiral Curzon Howe became Comander-in-Chief at Portsmouth in March, 1910, after 48 years' naval service. He had commanded many of the best known ships and was commodore in charge of Newfoundland fisheries in 1893-96, second in command of the Channel fleet 1902-03 China fleet 1904-05, Channel fleet 1906-07, Atlantic fleet 1907-08, commander-in-chief Mediterranean fleet 1908-10.

....John Marvin Carrere, the architect who was injured when a trolley car struck a taxicab in which he was riding two weeks ago, died of his injuries after being unconscious several days. He was born in Rio Janeiro, Brazil, of American parents, 53 years ago, and was educated in Switzerland and France. He was associated with Thomas Hastings as Carrere & Hastings. Mr. Carrere was twice president of the American Chapter of the New York Institute of Architects and of the Beaux Arts Society of New York, of which he was a founder. Many well known buildings, the New York Public Library and the New National Academy of Design being among his masterpieces.

....The Earl of Percy, aide de camp to Earl Grey, governor general of Canada, a member of one of England's most famous families, and for years a member of the British Parliament, walked the ties into Ottawa Tuesday night from Montreal, thus completing the last stage of a journey from New York, where he was an usher at the wedding of Lord Decies to Miss Gould. The long walk was the result of a wager made in Montreal. According to the terms the earl was to arrive in Ottawa in time for the Pauardenburg dinner at Rideau Hall last night, and when the diners sat down the earl was there. He said he thoroughly enjoyed the experience, despite the almost Arctic temperature and the cutting wind.

....Public bequests amounting to more than $125,000 are contained in the will of Rosa A. Cole, widow of Leander S. Cole, of Kingston, Mass., who left an estate which has been appraised at $610,000, much of which is in personal property. After numerous private bequests the will provides for the following public bequests: To the Old Colony Club of Plymouth, $2,000; to Plymouth Lodge of Masons, $5,000; to the Jordan Hospital, Plymouth, without restriction, $100,000, one half to be known as the Byron C. Quinby fund and the other as the Rosa A. Cole fund; to the Kingston Public Library, $5,000; to Evergreen Cemetery, Kingston, for the care of her own and neglected lots and replacing of monuments, $5,000; to the Kingston Unitarian Church, $5,000; to the Adams Free Lecture fund, Kingston, $1,000; to the Ryder Home for Aged Persons, Plymouth, $2,000; to her native town of Carver for cemetery care, $1,000; to the Carver Public Library, $1,000; to the Animal Rescue League of Boston, $2,000. The residue of the estate, after payment of all bequests is willed to the Jordan Hospital, to be added to the previously mentioned Rosa A. Cole fund.

MARCH.

[Lalla Mitchell in Columbian.]

Bud 'o the larch, blue 'o the sky,
Storm winds of March, roistering by!
Call of a bird, somewhere o'erhead,
Green branches stirred, soft petals spread.
Song in my breast, eager and fair,
Hope at its crest. Spring's in the air.

Sky like an arch, clouds misty white,
Sunshine of March, golden and bright;
Flowers on the lea, Eastward and West,
Whisper to me, Earth's at its best.
Joy in my soul, why should I care,
Certain the goal, Spring's in the air.

Breath 'o the larch, sweet o' the pine,
Green fields o' March, alders in line;
Patter of feet, squirrels at play,
Brd songs that greet, happy and gay.
Bliss in my heart, Life is so fair,
Praises upstart, Spring's in the air.

FANCIES.

Directoire, where have you gone?
Princess, did you strike a cobble?
All the "fad" skirts we've looked on
Since the first empurpled dawn
Ran away from Hobble.

Now the Hobble skirt is doomed
By the coming of the Harem!
Henceforth it must be entombed
With those skirts by Paris groomed,
'Cause no one will wear 'em.

But the Harem can't remain,
Others will tomorrow mock it;
Skirts, not trousers, will maintain—
Worship centres once again
On the trouser pocket.

PLENTY OF PROOF

From People You Know—From Newport Citizens.

The greatest skeptic can hardly fail to be convinced in the face of evidence like this. It is impossible to produce better proof of merit than the testimony of residents of Newport of people who can be seen at any time. Read the following case of it:

J. B. Caswell, rear of 49 Third St., Newport, R. I., says: "I was a victim of kidney complaint for a long time. Any strain on the muscles of my back caused pains through different parts of my body and often it was all I could do to straighten after stooping. My kidneys were very weak and I had to arise four or five times at night to pass the kidney secretions. Hearing a great deal about the wonderful cures Doan's Kidney Pills were making in similar cases, I resolved to try them and procured a box at Wright & Hay's Drug Store. This remedy acted directly on my kidneys and by restoring them to a condition of health, brought about a speedy cure from the disease which had gradually been robbing me of strength and energy. Should I ever feel in need of a kidney remedy again, I would lose no time in getting Doan's Kidney Pills. I have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to others who have been troubled with kidney complaint and they have always spoken highly of them."

LIVE GLOSSY HAIR ON HEALTHY SCALPS

To prevent dry, thin and falling hair, remove dandruff, allay itching and irritation and promote the growth and beauty of the hair, frequent shampoos with Cuticura soap, assisted by occasional dressings with Cuticura ointment, are usually effective when other methods fail. In preserving, purifying and beautifying the skin, in preventing minor eruptions from becoming chronic and in the treatment of torturing, disfiguring humors, rashes, itchings and inflammations, from infancy to age, these pure, sweet and gentle emollients have no rivals.

THE TENEMENT-HOUSE BILL.

One of the most important measures before the legislature in the opinion of many is the tenement-house bill, which is designed to regulate the construction and conditions in buildings of that character. It is held by those interested in the welfare of the poor and submerged that there is no more prolific source of misery, ill health and crime than the tenement-house of the sort located in the crowded sections of large or small cities, destitute of conveniences and abounding in conditions which make comfort, health and privacy impossible, and of necessity certable breeder of crime. This of course has no reference to the modern type of tenement-house now seen in neighborhoods better than those in which the old kind still thrives in many places, for it is indeed the modern style of such buildings which is the desire of those who are back of this bill to have substituted for the kind which cannot be improved, but must be absolutely destroyed.

The need of this tenement-house bill is not so obvious in small cities and towns, but is evident enough to those who live in large cities and take the trouble to go about in all sections and observe the conditions under which some residents live. For those who know nothing of these conditions from personal observation it ought to be sufficient that practically all the workers for the betterment of social conditions, as well as those who are engaged actively in the battle against tuberculosis, the medical men who are fighting all kinds of disease and the philanthropists who are helping the good work of the improvement of the environment of those who need assistance, are a unit in favor of this measure. These all regard it as one of the most important in the struggle against the conditions which keep down those who are trying to rise above their surroundings and live better lives and those who have sunk so low in the social scale that they have no ambition for anything better or higher than the life they are now living.

There is in all probability no measure before the legislature at this session in behalf of which so strong a fight is to be made, for the forces urging it as a measure for the benefit of humanity are well organized and determined to waive a hard battle to secure the enactment of a law which will be effective in accomplishing the good results which they are seeking on behalf of others. In the first place, the bill has been drawn with much more than ordinary care. There are many acts of this kind in force in other places and those who have this campaign in hand have studied these laws with great diligence and have endeavored to the measure proposed to incorporate the best features of existing legislation, so that the provisions of the bill are believed to be what is needed and will be most effective in this state. Not satisfied with this attention to detail, those who are leading in this movement are holding frequent conferences at which the provisions of the measure are gone over carefully and suggestions made, which may be presented for incorporation in the original act when the committee of the legislature to which it was referred holds a hearing on it.

At that hearing there will without question be a large gathering of those who favor the bill and are anxious that it shall be passed. Whether there will be much opposition is not yet evident, but it is believed by those who are pushing it that they will present such an array of men of influence and such an accumulation of argument in favor of the measure that the opposition will not be able to make much showing. They hope the legislators will readily be convinced that the bill is in the interest of the people and there is real need of its passage for the benefit of those who now live in tenement-houses of such a character as to be breeders of disease and crime and a positive influence for evil in any community. It is seldom that such an earnest effort is put forth in this state in behalf of any piece of legislation not of a political or partisan character as is being made in this instance, and success is merited by those who are making the campaign for better conditions in tenement-house life.

IN REGARD TO COFFEE.

Whether the recent advance in the price of coffee be due to the "valorization" plan adopted by Brazil or to the manipulation of the market by great dealers, or both, which is probable, it has not been successful in maintaining the advance made. The price was driven up between last summer and the end of the year from between eight and nine cents for the standard grade to 13½, but it has recently been between 10 and 11 cents, showing a loss of more than half the advance.

The Brazilian experiment in maintaining the price of coffee and preventing a glut of the market when the crop is large has been only moderately successful, and has succeeded only on the easy side. If one has plenty of money to buy with he can force up the price of coffee, cotton or corn, but after a while he has spent his money and has a great quantity of the commodity on hand; what is he going to do then? If he sells he will break the market, and if he doesn't sell where is he to find money to keep on buying with? This is the situation which has broken nearly every man who has run a great corner.

At a late date Brazil had more than 6,000,000 bags of coffee stored, which had cost her nearly $100,000,000. One or two short crops would enable her to market her surplus, but in the absence of a crop failure the situation is not encouraging. The agents of the government have ordered the sale of 1,200,000 bags of coffee, half in New York and half in Havre, half April 1 and half on the fifteenth. One half of this is to be sold at market prices, and the other half, if possible, at the rate of 75 francs a bag, but that is an advance of about 10 francs a bag above the market. Unless production is checked the price can be advanced only by continual buying, taking the coffee off the market and creating an artificial scarcity. That takes a great deal of money, and the interest is running on the bonds all the time.

A PAID MILITIA.

While service in the militia consisted merely of putting on a fancy uniform and parading around one's home town on the Fourth of July and a few other great occasions, it was a good deal of a lark and there was no trouble in obtaining recruits. Now that militia service is approximated in some degree to that in the army there is not so much fun and a good deal of work. Governor Foss of Massachusetts has informed his legislature that the state has the plant for a large and effective militia but cannot secure the men, and asks that some provision be made for paying them.

In some states the militia are paid for the time spent in the summer encampment. That encampment is a sort of summer vacation; it is interesting to boys, gives them the novelty of camp life without expense to themselves, and if it brings in a couple of dollars a day it is rather worth while. But the men are also required to give up considerable time for their drills all through the year, an evening a week or some such matter being necessary if the men are to attain and retain a state of efficiency.

This country does not like, and probably will never have, a really large standing army, and it certainly needs nothing like the military establishments of Europe. We depend upon our citizen soldiery, but if these are to be useful they must have a great deal more training than was supposed 50 years ago to be necessary. There should be in the country somewhere between 50,000 and 100,000 men who could be ordered out immediately to reinforce the regular army and take the field while a volunteer army is being recruited and organized. It may prove to be necessary for the states or the national government to pay the militia something, even if the number of militia should be reduced. Massachusetts has nominally 8,500 in the National Guard. Two or three thousand well trained men capable of immediate service would be the proportionate share for Massachusetts of a force amounting for the nation to 100,000 or something approaching that.

Nothing is yet determined regarding a vote in the Senate on Canadian reciprocity. The pressure on the Senate to vote continues stronger than ever, while a small minority of members are still determined that there shall be no expression of the will of the majority, and in consequence an extra session. There is a strong feeling against an extra session. No one seems to desire it except a few Senators, several of whom will not be members of the next Congress, and both Representatives and Senators are appealing to the enemies of the agreement to come to some understanding which will prevent the calling together of Congress in a few weeks. President Taft is firm in his statement that he will call an extra session if the Canadian bill is not acted upon and will not agree to any compromising. There the matter lies, a small minority holding a large majority by the throat.

It would seem to be short-sighted to the last degree on the part of the United Mine Workers of America to compel the resignation of John Mitchell from the Civic Federation. For a man so able and so loyal to the interests of the workingmen as Mr. Mitchell to be on this national board, which decides many of the complex differences between capital and labor, is a great advantage to the latter. If such a man were not already a member of the Federation it would be the highest benefit to labor interests to have one elected who to a large degree would be its representative.

President Taft gave the magazine publishers little satisfaction when they called upon him to urge further investigation into the postal rates which their publications should pay. He told them that as long as he was in office he was "going ahead to bring about a proper adjustment" of magazine rates. It is not in the slightest spirit of hostility to the magazines that I have made this recommendation, but because I am responsible for the government of the United States and the administration of it."

Governor Dix has said all along that he would not interfere in the New York Senatorial deadlock, but he has now partially yielded that position. It is reported that, satisfied that the Democratic leaders, if permitted to go their way unmolested, will tie up the legislature indefinitely on the Senatorial question, he has within the past two days, in the interest of his party and his administration, made moves which he hopes will bring about a settlement of the difficulty next week.

Another step has been taken towards statehood for New Mexico, the House of Representatives having approved the constitution. Arizona's constitution has not yet reached Congress and cannot be acted upon at this session. Arizona will therefore not become a full-fledged state this year, unless there is action by an extra session.

The Appalachian-White Mountain bill has become a law, President Taft attaching his signature to it, and thus are concluded the efforts for that legislation which have been in progress for several years. It means the preservation of the forests of the Eastern mountain ranges.

It hardly seems possible, but the weather bureau at Boston reports that the past month was the warmest February since it began to keep its records, 41 years ago. The mean temperature was 34.4, and the nearest approach to that was in 1877, when the mean was 34. The range was from 4 to 56 degrees.

The vote on the Lorimer case in the Senate shows some interesting differences of opinion, not the least interesting being the fact that Republican senators from 13 states divided on each side some of the oldest lawyers and most conscientious members of the Senate.

ART OBJECTS AT THE HOE SALE.

At the Hoe sale of art objects in New York $500 was paid for a French illuminated manuscript of the middle of the fifteenth century, or rather leaves from a French manuscript of the work of Alfonso de Spina, entitled "Les Fortresses de la Foi." It has been reproduced in smaller size in a work of Paul Lacroix's and is from the Firmin Didot collection. Another illustration, North Italian, of about 1500, brought $475. The upper part is decorated with a representation of the Resurrection and the lower with two bars of music painted in gold and colors. A fifteenth century manuscript illumination, showing the Italian influence and depicting "The Presentation in the Temple," went for $100 and for $800, another of the same period and style, with historical initials in oval form and representing the "Martyrdom of St. John the Evangelist," who stands in the cauldron of boiling oil.

Of the collection of fragile fans the highest price was $780. It was paid for a French eighteenth century fan painted on vellum and showing on the front a merry scene with groups of women and children and a young girl and man at a fountain. The next highest price for a fan was $220, given for a Louis XVI painted fan, with jewel fastener, executed in about 1770.

A German eighteenth century gold watch, made at Frankfort and decorated with enamel painting of landscapes in panels, signed "Les deux freres Hanamphetres de sen. A. E. de Grandaban," was sold for $510; a finish eighteenth century watch, with enamel paintings of mythological subjects by the Brothers Hunt, was sold for $400; an English seventeenth century watch for $380. A French eighteenth century gold watch, with fob, and an enamel painting on it, done after a kitchen interior, by that admirable painter of still life, Chardin, sold for $310. A buyer paid $110 for an English eighteenth century gold repeating watch and chatelaine, signed "Howes," and $400 for another gold repeating watch of the same place and period, the chatelaine of which was particularly elaborate.

The most expensive miniature went for $400. It was a portrait of Louis XIV, by Petitot, signed and painted about 1705. $340 was paid for a miniature attributed to Nathaniel Plymer.

NEWPORTERS OPPOSE THE OSTEOPATHY BILL.

At the hearing before the house judiciary committee on the bill creating a state board of osteopathy, Dr. Clarence H. Wall of Providence, General Charles W. Abbot, ex-Lieutenant Governor Frederick H. Jackson, Alderman B. P. Moulton of Providence and others spoke in favor of the measure.

Dr. Gardner T. Swarts appeared against the bill, as a representative of the Rhode Island and other medical societies. He spoke strongly in opposition and explained the courses given at the osteopathic schools, declaring that they fall far short of those at the medical colleges. Other physicians also opposed the measure.

Dr. A. F. Squire of this city opposed the bill as class legislation, and Judge Robert M. Franklin of this city spoke against the act on its legal status.

AROUND RHODE ISLAND.

Corporations Make Last Day for Filing Tax Returns a Busy One.

New Highway Bridge Over Railroad at East Warren Opened for Travel.

The office of the collector of internal revenue in Providence was a busy place Wednesday, which was the last day allowed by law for the filing of returns for the corporation tax which will be assessed on the first of June. In the past two or three days fully 1,500 returns have been filed. Under the law passed August 5, 1909, corporations, joint stock companies or associations and insurance companies must pay a special excise tax once each year equivalent to one per cent of the entire net income over and above $5,000. Failure to make the specified return involves a fine of not less than $1,000 and not exceeding $10,000. Ordinarily the internal revenue clerks would not have been so busy at this time of the year, but the heads of corporations were expecting that the Supreme Court of the United States would hand down a decision on the constitutionality of the corporation tax law Monday. The decision did not come, and for this reason the officers of many companies were obliged to make haste to put their returns in. Last year about $26,000,000 was derived by the government as income from the corporation tax, about $3,000,000 of this coming from the district which includes Rhode Island and Connecticut. There are eight divisions of the section of the act which relates to the returns which are to be made. Briefly these are that returns shall be made by corporations on the total amount of paid-up capital outstanding at the close of the year, on the gross amount of income received during the year, on the total amount of necessary expenses paid out of earnings, on the total amount of all losses actually sustained during the year, not compensated by insurance or otherwise; on the amount of interest on bonded or other indebtedness, on the amount paid during the year for taxes and on the net income. Assessments are made by the commissioner of internal revenue on or before June 1, and must be paid on or before June 30.

Warren is now in possession of an up-to-date highway bridge, passing over the New Haven Railroad line in East Warren, the first of a number of new steel structures to be erected along the line in Warren and Barrington. The new steel bridge over the railroad at Long lane was completed Wednesday and accepted by Highway Surveyor Barry in behalf of the town. The expense of construction was borne by the company. The structure is 20 feet wide and has a length to approaches of 90 feet, with a rise of 19 feet above the tracks of the line of the railroad. There are guard rails on each side and the bridge is substantial in every way. Creosoted planking forms the wearing foundation, with lighter planking attached to the surface for a driveway. The bridge is open for traffic. It is expected that a double line railroad will be in operation between Warren and Touisset station for the first time on Memorial Day, and then the company will turn its attention to erecting a new steel bridge at East Warren, at Metacom avenue to eliminate the grade crossing of the New Haven Railroad there.

The forcible entry and detainer proceedings under which the town of East Greenwich sought to acquire possession of the schoolhouse in district No. 2 in that town were quashed Wednesday by an opinion of the superior court, handed down by Judge Blodgett, who says several errors were made in the bringing of the action and the trial. The town of East Greenwich failed for a time to maintain a school in the schoolhouse in question, and Napoleon Guenond, a man employed by the owner of the farm surrounding the school lot, occupied the building as a dwelling. Children increased in the district, and the East Greenwich school committee deemed it wise to re-open a school. Finding Guenond in possession of the schoolhouse, the town council voted September 29, 1910, that Town Sergeant Murray should take steps to eject all persons in possession. The action of forcible entry and detainer was begun shortly thereafter, and a special jury was summoned to try the case. Judge Blodgett holds that the proceedings were unlawful because John H. Murray was substituted for the town of East Greenwich as complainant in the case, and furthermore the provision of the statute requiring that the complainant shall pay the jurors for their attendance and travel before the verdict was not complied with. The supreme court decides that the defendant's bill of exceptions must be dismissed for lack of jurisdiction.

Stephen J. Casey was appointed temporary receiver of the Imperial Silk Mills Company of Pawtucket by Judge George T. Brown of the superior court Wednesday afternoon, with bond fixed at $10,000. The petition for the appointment of a receiver was filed by William W. Harrison, Francis J. Berry and James F. Harry, who hold the 3,600 shares of the corporation's common stock. Walter Calleuder, who owns the preferred stock, which is divided into 50 shares, did not join the common stockholders in the petition. The ostensible purpose of the appointment of a receiver is to wind up the affairs of the concern, which has been running about two years. The machinery ceased running three weeks ago, owing to the dullness of the market and high cost of material. It was stated that the business failed to produce profits and the temporary receiver estimates the liabilities at $14,000 with assets worth half that sum. The temporary receiver was appointed by Judge Brown without a hearing of all the parties interested, but on the ex-parte petition of the common stockholders who represented that the corporation was insolvent.

Stiff fines were imposed Wednesday upon George E. Kearins, aged 18, a Western Union Telegraph Company clerk, and John J. Fitzgerald, aged 20, from whom Kearins is said to have secured the drug, as the result of the arrest of the two men for selling cocaine. Kearins was arraigned before the Sixth District court and fined $50 and costs on each of two counts of selling the drug to Patrolmen Bowen and Clarke, by whom he was arrested. Meanwhile Fitzgerald was haled before the superior court to answer to two old charges of a similar nature on which sentence was suspended at the time of his previous appearance before that tribunal. Fitzgerald was fined $100 and costs in each case, the maximum penalty.

The parishioners of the Central Baptist Church, Providence, gave a reception Wednesday evening complimentary to their new pastor, Rev. Clarence M. Gallup and Mrs. Gallup. The affair was in the nature of a welcome and fully 150 members and friends were present. The room was decorated with palms, roses and carnations, the parlors furnishing a background for the receiving party in which were Rev. and Mrs. Gallup, General and Mrs. Elisha H. Rhodes and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Hartwell.

A Senator who has read the letter sent by Senator Aldrich to President Taft, regarding the pending Canadian reciprocity legislation, said it consists of an expression of Mr. Aldrich's opinion that the bill should have been promptly reported from the finance committee, and that it should be brought to a vote before the close of the present session. The letter was sent in reply to a long communication from the President to Mr. Aldrich.

A new wage agreement, covering a period of five years, has been signed by the Westerly granite manufacturers and the local branch of the International Granite Cutters' Union. The cutters demanded 43 cents an hour, a raise of three cents. The compromise agreement gives them 40½ cents an hour, which is ½ cent higher than the rate paid at Barre, Vt., and Quincy, Mass.

A CHEERFUL GIVER.

[Lippincott's.]

The father of a Germantown lad had given him a 10-cent piece and a quarter of a dollar, telling him that he might put one or the other on the church's contribution plate.

At dinner the father asked the boy which coin he had given.

"Well, father," explained the youngster, "at first it seemed to me that I ought to put the quarter on the plate; but just in time I remembered the saying, 'The Lord loveth a cheerful giver,' and I knew I could give the 10-cent piece a great deal more cheerfully. So I put that in."

BOSTON, March 2.—Forecast for Boston and vicinity—Fair and colder tonight; Friday fair; moderate westerly winds.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

The disturbance that was in the vicinity of Lake Superior yesterday has moved eastward to the lower St. Lawrence valley. It has produced scattered light snows in the Lake Region and northern New England. There has also been scattered showers reported from some of the middle and south Atlantic states, but the slight depression that was noted there yesterday has disappeared. The weather is generally fair in the western half of the country. The ridge of high pressure in the west has diminished. The temperature is higher in Atlantic coast states and the Maritime provinces. Cold weather has appeared over Lake Superior. In New York at 8 a. m. it was 34, Washington 36, Jacksonville 68, St. Louis 38, Chicago 34, Denver 30 and San Francisco 42.

IN HONOR OF OGDEN DAY.

Colored Odd Fellows Pay Homage to the Memory of the Founder of the Order.

Canonchet Lodge, No. 2439, G. U. O. O. F., assisted by the members of Household of Ruth, No. 501, and Newport Patriarchic, No. 92, paid homage to the memory of Peter Ogden, founder of the order of colored Odd Fellows in this country, by a gathering at Canonchet hall Wednesday evening, when addresses were made by prominent members of the colored race in Newport and in the order. There was a large number of members of the several branches present, and the program was of an interesting character.

The meeting was presided over by Past Noble Grand Franklin P. Wright, as master of ceremonies. In opening he called up Rev. W. H. Reed, pastor of the Mt. Olivet Baptist Church, to offer prayer. The opening ode was sung and Past Noble Father David A. Crockett read the proclamation of District Grand Master T. D. Solomon, calling upon the subordinate lodges to observe the day in memory of Peter Ogden. An oration on the founder of the order was given by Rev. William H. Thomas, D. D., pastor of the Mt. Zion African Methodist Episcopal Church; Colonel David B. Allen, commanding officer of the Seventh Patriarchic Regiment of New England, spoke on Odd Fellowship; Dr. Marcus F. Wheatland along similar lines, and Mr. C. F. D. Sawyerweather of the history of Canonchet Lodge, giving an interesting account of the organization, in which he has been active from the beginning. Interspersed between the addresses were vocal solos by Mrs. E. C. Jackson, James O. Clarke Alexander Tate and Miss E. L. Pender; a duet by Alexander Black and Mrs. Russell Phillips, a reading by Miss Smith and an instrumental selection by the Messe quartet. Light refreshments were served at the close.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—"The Breakers," it is reported on authority, will not be occupied next season.

—Simeon Hazard has rented to Alfred Johnson the cottage of Seth Debois on Underwood court.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. H. P. Gilbert of New York have given up their lease of the Morrell cottage at Ochre Point.

—Herbert L. Dyer has rented for Mrs. Harris Burkinshaw the cottage on Powell avenue to Stephen Dancy, U. S. N.

—Surgeon William L. Irvine, U. S. N., of the Marietta, is on a short vacation and with Mrs. Irvine is visiting in this city.

—A large quantity of supplies for the Training and Torpedo Stations are at the depot and being rapidly carted to their destination.

—M. B. Sheedy of the Freebody Park theatre and James H. Donovan have leased the Woonsocket theatre and will make improvements before reopening it.

—Rev. Emery Porter, D. D., of Emanuel Church, will address a meeting in St. James Church, Fall River, this evening. The Girls' Friendly will attend in a body.

—DeWolfe & Eldridge have rented for A. L. Andrain office rooms on the second floor in his building on Bellevue avenue to Mollie O'Hara of New York, for the coming season.

—C. H. Welsh, A. F. Biesel and T. R. Leary of Philadelphia; R. D. Russell and E. G. Cushing of Boston, R. D. Williams of New York and F. B. Gale of Providence are registered at the Perry House.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. A. LeBrun, their son Gerald and daughter Helen left today for Cape Breton, Canada, after a six weeks' visit to Mrs. LeBrun's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fitzgerald, on Prospect Hill street.

—In the list of members of the women's missions jubilee committee the names of Mrs. Herbert T. Sheffield, representing the First Baptist Church, and Mrs. John S. Rinker, representing the Friends', were omitted.

—J. B. Parsonage & Son have sold for Mary Boylock the three-tenement house and lot, bounded north, 100 feet, by land of Thomas Kitchen; east, by Thames street, south, 100 feet, by Potter street, and west by the O'Brien place, to Mary Reynolds.

—Mr. Henry Hall, in making a recent inspection of his house on Bull street, found two leather fire buckets, numbered one and two and labelled "H. Bull." They are in good order and marked "H. Bull." They descended to Mr. Bull from his grandfather.

—It was thought that Wednesday, when the milkmen visited the City Hall in regard to the milk regulations, an owner would be found for a glove which had apparently been dropped by a talksman. At least that is the way the officials at the City Hall had mince sized up, but the glove is still there.

—The Board of Aldermen will hold its weekly meeting this evening and the committee on new site for the police station will also have a meeting. On account of the tie-up in the ferry slip at Providence, it is a question if the committee will be in a position to make a report at the next meeting of the Council.

—The weather seems on the verge of another change. There was one day—Wednesday, in the spring-like direction; this morning was fine, and the early afternoon was a good lively change day on Thames street. Later it was threatening, the wind has shifted from southwest to northwest, and it promises not to be so pleasant.

—William Loftus has sold for Fred E. Webber and Minerva H. Webber the property at 19 Gibbs avenue, bounded northerly, 60 feet, by land of John P. Peckham; easterly, 41 feet, by Gibbs avenue; southerly, 60 feet, by Gardiner street, and westerly, 44 feet, by land of Annie Gladding, to James V. Jacobson and wife.

—Simon Hart has an exhibition in his window from the collection of ex-Mayor D. B. Fearing, the horn of a narwhal, 6 feet 7 inches long. It is unusual to find a specimen complete, as this one is. It was found by Mr. Fearing in Dundee, Scotland. Also a pair of walrus tusks, two sword-fish swords, and a saw of a sawfish, all of which are fine specimens.

—The "Three Singing Comiques," a trio of male voices, are at the Bijou Theatre; also the musical tableaux in which duets of the old Scotch songs in costume, are rendered. There are also illustrated songs. The pictures consist of "A Wreath of Orange Blossoms," one of the latest Biograph productions; "Age vs. Youth," and a comedy by the Edison company, entitled "The Lover and the Count."

—The ice cutting by the Arctic company came to an unexpected close Wednesday at Green End pond. The ice was a trifle thin and the wind so high that it bothered the workers so much that work was suspended. The Independent company is still cutting at the north end of the pond, where the ice is thicker and there is not so much swash from the heavy wind.

REIGN OF TERROR PREVAILS IN CHINA.

Starving Refugees Plunder the Stricken Districts.

A Band of Looters Reported as Burned to Death at Kunshan.

VICTORIA, B. C., March 2.—Rendered desperate by hunger, bands of hundreds of starving refugees are roving through the famine stricken districts of China, plundering and killing, and a reign of terror prevails, according to persons arriving here on the Tiuba Maru, which reached port from the Orient yesterday.

At Kunshan, a walled village within 50 miles of Shanghai, the villagers, after a desperate raid in which stores were looted and many killed, meted out punishment peculiarly Chinese in its callousness to the raiding refugees. A band of more than 500 are reported to have been surrounded in a compound and burned to death.

The refugees had taken possession of Kunshan and for two days ransacked the stores of everything eatable, killing or wounding all who resisted. Some of the villagers were taken prisoners and held for ransom. When the raiders moved on to plunder the next village the Kunshan people and a council of war and offered to pursue the fugitives. They came up with them in a small village and surrounded the houses. The gates were locked and the houses fired. The refugees brought five prisoners into the compound, in view of the siegers, and threatened to kill them unless the siege was raised, and on the villagers pressing them back to the burning buildings, they slowly hacked the five men to death. Three other prisoners were tied to stakes in the burning building and were burned with their captors.

TO BE AHEAD OF JAPAN.

Russia Soon to Take Steps to Annex Northern Manchuria.

VICTORIA, B. C., March 2.—The Zabaikalskayn Nov, a Russian paper published at Calta, says it is likely that Russia soon will take steps to annex northern Manchuria, because of a reputed intention of Japan to secure southern Manchuria next year. The Russian writer, whose article was translated by a Japanese newspaper brought here by the Tamba Maru, says the annexation of southern Manchuria by Japan is delayed only by the failure to connect up the Antung-Mukden railroad, and that when the Wiju bridge is completed, next year, Japan will be ready to proceed with her program.

EXTENT OF POWER OF COURTS.

Question Raised Regarding Examination of Books of Corporations.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The extent of the power of the courts of the land to examine the books of corporations is the question raised in a series of cases before the Supreme Court of the United States for argument.

William Dreir, secretary of the Lichtenstein Millinery Company of New York, and Christopher C. Wilson, president of the United Wireless Telegraph Company, a Maine corporation, have both been declared in contempt of court in New York, because they prevented the grand jury from examining books of their respective corporations. In the former case the grand jury was investigating certain violations of the customs law. In the latter the grand jury was inquiring into alleged violations of the postal laws.

In each case examination of the books by the grand jury was refused on the ground that they might tend to incriminate. Each man is still claiming that to compel him to give up the books would be to interfere with his constitutional right, not to testify against himself. Dreir was subpoenaed in name, but the government claims that he was subpoenaed in his representative and not his personal capacity.

In the Wilson case the United Wireless Company was addressed in the subpoenae without mention of any individual. It was asked to produce certain books. "In regard to an alleged volaton of the statutes of the United States, by Christopher C. Wilson." Copies of the subpoenae were delivered to various officers of the company. Wilson answered the subpoenae and was adjudged in contempt when he refused to produce the books or to turn them over to the company to produce. The government claims that no wrong Wilson may have committed had vested him with the custody and control of the company's books against the company's will, or made them his own to suppress or to destroy.

TO EVERY HOTEL BEDROOM.

The Gideons Order 100,000 Bibles for General Distribution.

NEW YORK, March 2.—One hundred thousand Bibles have been ordered for general distribution by the Gideons, an association of the Christian Travelers' Association of America style themselves. The order is said to be the largest ever placed, and it forms part of a national plan to place a Bible in every hotel bedroom in the country. W. E. Henderson, national secretary of the Gideons, said here today that he had been promised one fourth of the order for San Francisco and the Pacific coast.

It is planned that the 25,000 Bibles, the largest number ever shipped at one time, shall reach San Francisco in time for the triennial convention of the Inter-national Sunday School Association, which is to be held the latter part of June. For every Bible there will be a member of the adult Bible classes of San Francisco to march through the streets in parade, a Gideon Bible in his hand, and at the end of the parade each marcher will build his Bible into a gigantic pyramid to be erected on the platform of the convention auditorium, there to stand as an object lesson while the convention is in session.

IN HALF A MILE FLIGHT.

Glenn Curtiss's Aviation Class of Army and Navy Officers at Work.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., March 2.—The aviation class of army and navy officers which Glenn H. Curtiss is instructing here, led by Lieutenant Paul W. Beck of the Thirteenth infantry, one and all successively flew for half a mile, alighted, and then flew back to the hangar. Flights were made by Lieutenant Beck, Lieutenant Theodore G. Ellison of the navy; Lieutenants John C. Walker, Jr., Eighth Infantry, and George E. M. Kelly, Thirteenth Infantry.

DUNNE CLAIMS NOMINATION.

Canvass of Ballots Cast at Recent Primary in Chicago to be Begun.

CHICAGO, March 2.—Canvass of the ballots cast at Tuesday's primary will be begun today. Unofficial returns gave Carter H. Harrison a lead of 1,556 over Edward F. Dunne, for the Democratic nomination for mayor, but Dunne's managers claim that mistakes have been discovered in the police returns, and the official count will show that Dunne has a plurality.

Asked as to the reports that he would become an independent candidate if the official count of the votes indicated the nomination of Mr. Harrison, as already shown by the police returns, Mr. Dunne said, "Not a word as to that. That is a bridge which will be crossed when we get to it, if we ever do. I claim that I was nominated at yesterday's primary and I am confident the canvass of the vote will bear out my claims."

The obtaining of the necessary signatures for an independent candidate (7,700) will be no small task, for the petition must be filed by March 16, and every signer must be a man who did not vote at Tuesday's primary.

UNJUSTLY CONVICTED.

Governor Hay of Washington Pardons Man Sentenced for Murder.

OLYMPIA, Wash, March 4.—Governor Hay last night announced the pardon of William Stewart, an Englishman sentenced to imprisonment for life, for murdering a companion near Index, Snohomish county, a year ago. The pardon was granted at the request of the British government, which investigated the case on Stewart's behalf. The investigation found that Stewart was intoxicated at the time of the crime. It is said also that there was no direct evidence of his guilt and the authorities incline to the opinion that he was unjustly convicted.

SIR JOHN MURRAY IMPROVED.

British Scientist to Soon Resume Lectures on the Ocean.

BOSTON, March 2.—Sir John Murray, the British scientist who was compelled to seek medical aid, while visiting in this city a month ago, has fully recovered. It was announced today that he would resume his course of lectures on the ocean March 13.

NOTORIOUS CANADIAN BANDIT.

Man Arrested in Connection With Train Robbery "Old Bill" Miner.

VANCOUVER, British Columbia, March 2.—The identification of the man arrested in connection with the express robbery at Gainesville, Ga., as "Old Bill" Miner, the notorious Canadian bandit, who escaped from the penitentiary at New Westminster, three years ago, is complete, according to a statement given out by the Dominion police here yesterday. The common authorities say they will bring Miner back to British Columbia, if the Georgia courts fail to convict him on the charge for which he is held there.

ORDER NOW IN EFFECT.

Locomotive Department of Lake Shore Road Decreases Wages.

TOLEDO, March 2.—A reduction of 10 per cent in the pay roll curtailment of the number of employes, and the working hours from ten to eight, has been ordered for the locomotive department of the Lake Shore Railroad, in Toledo. The order, which was effective today, involves a pay roll approximating $15,200 per month, and the pay envelopes of about 25 machinists and boilermakers. Instructions are to lay off men wherever it is possible to do so. The places of the 15 boilermakers, who struck nearly two weeks ago, have been filled.

SPECIAL MEETING ALLOWED.

Question of Accepting Calumet Company's Offer to be Acted Upon.

BOSTON, March 2.—When the text of the temporary injunction issued by Judge Swann in the United States circuit court at Grand Rapids, Mich., yesterday, restraining the Calumet & Hecla Mining Co. from absorbing the Osceola Mining Company, was received here today, it was found that it did not forbid the holding of the special meeting of the Osceola stockholders in this city March 9. At that time the question of accepting the offer of the Calumet Company will be acted upon by the stockholders, and on that day and the two following days, eight other companies which the Calumet company seeks to absorb will also hold similar meetings.

NO MOTIVE FOR HIS ACT.

Paul Orchard, Son of Captain of the West Virginia, Takes His Own Life.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 2.—Paul Orchard, 22 years old, son of Captain John M. Orchard of cruiser West Virginia, committed suicide here last night, by drinking cyanide of potassium. His body was found by his sister, with whom he lived. Under the pillow of his bed was found a note addressed to the sister, reading as follows: "Good bye, Daught, Good bye Pa, Love and good will to all."

No motive for the boy's act is known. He came here three months ago from the east. The West Virginia, with Captain Orchard on board, is at Bremerton.

EN ROUTE TO NEW YORK.

Minister of Finance in Diaz's Cabinet Finishes Work in Paris.

CHERBOURG, France, March 2.—Jose Ives Lemantour, minister of finance in the cabinet of President Diaz of Mexico, is a passenger on the North German Lloyd Kronprinze Wilhelm, which sailed for New York last night. Senator Limantour is accompanied by Senora Limantour, the improvement in whose health made it possible for them to begin their homeward journey. They left Paris yesterday to meet the steamer here.

In speaking of his expected return to Mexico recently, the minister said that he planned to proceed from New York, by water, to Yucatan, for a private visit there. He did not indicate when he would be likely to continue to the capital. The minister has been in Paris since last August. His mission was to place in Europe bonds in conversion of the Mexican national debt, to the amount of $110,000,000. One half of the issue has been placed, but the minister said he had decided not to dispose of the remainder at this time. His delay in returning home is explained by the illness of Senora Limantour. The Kronprinz Wilhelm is due in New York next Tuesday.

THE TENEMENT-HOUSE BILL.

One of the most important measures before the legislature in the opinion of many is the tenement-house bill, which is designed to regulate the construction and conditions in buildings of that character. It is held by those interested in the welfare of the poor and submerged that there is no more prolific source of misery, ill health and crime than the tenement-house of the slums, or structures of that sort located in the crowded sections of large or small cities, destitute of conveniences and abounding in conditions which make comfort, health and privacy impossible, and of necessity veritable breeder of crime. This of course has no reference to the modern type of tenement-house now seen in neighborhoods better than those in which the old kind still thrives. In many places, for it is indeed the modern style of such buildings which is the desire of those who are back of this bill to have substituted for the kind which cannot be improved, but must be absolutely destroyed.

The need of this tenement-house bill is not so obvious in small cities and towns, but is evident enough to those who live in large cities and take the trouble to go about in all sections and observe the conditions under which some residents live. For those who know nothing of these conditions from personal observation it ought to be sufficient that practically all the workers for the betterment of social conditions, as well as those who are engaged actively in the battle against tuberculosis, the medical men who are fighting all kinds of disease and the philanthropists who are helping the good work of the improvement of the environment of those who need assistance, are a unit in favor of this measure. These all regard it as one of the most important in the struggle against the conditions which keep down those who are trying to rise above their surroundings and live better lives and those who have sunk so low in the social scale that they have no ambition for anything better or higher than the life they are now living.

There is in all probability no measure before the legislature at this session in behalf of which so strong a fight is to be made, for the forces urging it as a measure for the benefit of humanity are well organized and determined to wage a hard battle to secure the enactment of a law which will be effective in accomplishing the good results which they are seeking in behalf of others. In the first place, the bill has been drawn with much more than ordinary care. There are many acts of this kind in force in other places and those who have this campaign in hand have studied these laws with great diligence and have embodied in the measure proposed here the best features of existing legislation so that the provisions of the bill are believed to be what is needed and will be most effective in this state. Not satisfied with this attention to detail, those who are leading in this movement are filling frequent conferences at which the provisions of the measure are gone over carefully and suggestions made, which may be presented for incorporation in the original act when the committee of the legislature to which it was referred holds a hearing on it.

At that hearing there will, without question, be a large gathering of those who favor the bill and are anxious that it shall be passed. Whether there will be much opposition is not yet evident, but it is believed by those who are pushing it that they will present such an array of men of influence and such an accumulation of argument in favor of the measure that the opposition will not be able to make much showing. They hope the legislators will readily be convinced that the bill is in the interest of the people and there is real need of its passage for the benefit of those who now live in tenement-houses of such a character as to be breeders of disease and crime and a positive influence for evil in any community. It is seldom that such an earnest effort is put forth in this state in behalf of any piece of legislation not of a political or partisan character as is being made in this instance, and success is merited by those who are making the campaign for better conditions in tenement-house life.

IN REGARD TO COFFEE.

Whether the recent advance in the price of coffee be due to the "valorization" plan adopted by Brazil or to the manipulation of the market by great dealers, or both, which is probable, it has not been successful in maintaining the advance made. The price was driven up between last summer and the end of the year from between eight and nine cents for the standard grade to 13½, but it has recently been between 10 and 11 cents, showing a loss of more than half the advance.

The Brazilian experiment in maintaining the price of coffee and preventing a glut of the market when the crop is large has been only moderately successful, and has succeeded only on the easy side. If one has plenty of money to buy with he can force up the price of coffee, cotton or corn, but after a while he has spent his money and has a great quantity of the commodity on hand; what is he going to do then? If he sells he will break the market, and if he doesn't sell where is he to find money to keep on buying with? This is the situation which has broken nearly every man who has run a great corner.

At a late date Brazil had more than 6,000,000 bags of coffee stored which had cost her nearly $100,000,000. One or two short crops would enable her to market her surplus, but in the absence of a crop failure the situation is not encouraging. The agents of the government have ordered the sale of 1,200,000 bags of coffee, half in New York and half in Havre, half April 1 and half on the fifteenth. One half of this is to be sold at market prices, and the other half, if possible, at the rate of 75 francs a bag, but that is an advance of about 10 francs a bag above the market. Unless production is checked the price can be advanced only by continual buying, taking the coffee off the market and creating an artificial scarcity. That takes a great deal of money, and the interest is running on the bonds all the time.

A PAID MILITIA.

While service in the militia consisted merely of putting on a fancy uniform and parading around one's home town on the Fourth of July and a few other great occasions, it was a good deal of a lark and there was no trouble in obtaining recruits. Now that militia service is approximated in some degree to that in the army there is not so much fun and a good deal of work. Governor Foss of Massachusetts has informed his legislature that the state has the plant for a large and effective militia but cannot secure the men, and asks that some provision be made for paying them.

In some states the militia are paid for the time spent in the summer encampment. That encampment is a sort of summer vacation; it is interesting to boys, gives them the novelty of camp life without expense to themselves and if it brings in a couple of dollars a day it is rather worth while. But the men are also required to give up considerable time for their drills all through the year, on evening a week or some such matter being necessary if the men are to attain and retain a state of efficiency.

This country does not like, and probably will never have, a really large standing army, and it certainly needs nothing like the military establishments of Europe. We depend upon our citizen soldiery, but if these are to be useful they must have a great deal more training than was supposed 50 years ago to be necessary. There should be in the country somewhere between 50,000 and 100,000 men who could be ordered out immediately to reinforce the regular army and take the field while a volunteer army is being recruited and organized. It may prove to be necessary for the states or the national government to pay the militia something, even if the number of militia should be reduced. Massachusetts has nominally 6,500 in the National Guard. Two or three thousand well trained men capable of immediate service would be the proportionate share for Massachusetts of a force amounting for the nation to 100,000 or something approaching that.

Nothing is yet determined regarding a vote in the Senate on Canadian reciprocity. The pressure on the Senate to vote continues stronger than ever, while a small minority of members are still determined that there shall be no expression of the will of the majority, and in consequence an extra session. There is a strong feeling against an extra session. No one seems to desire it except a few Senators, several of whom will not be members of the next Congress, and both Representatives and Senators are appealing to the enemies of the agreement to come to some understanding which will present the calling together of Congress in a few weeks. President Taft is firm in his statement that he will call an extra session if the Canadian bill is not acted upon and will not agree to any compromising. There the matter lies, a small minority holding a large majority by the throat.

It would seem to be short-sighted to the last degree on the part of the United Mine Workers of America to compel the resignation of John Mitchell from the Civic Federation. For a man so able and so loyal to the interests of the workingmen as Mr. Mitchell to be on this national board, which decides many of the complex differences between capital and labor, is a great advantage to the latter. If such a man were not already a member of the Federation it would be the highest benefit to labor interests to have one elected who to a large degree would be its representative.

President Taft gave the magazine publishers little satisfaction when they called upon him to urge further investigation into the postal rates which their publications should pay. He told them that as long as he was in office he was "going ahead to bring about a proper adjustment" of magazine rates. It is not in the slightest spirit of hostility to the magazines that I have made this recommendation, but because I am responsible for the government of the United States and the administration of it."

Governor Dix has said all along that he would not interfere in the New York Senatorial deadlock, but he has now partially yielded that position. It is reported that, satisfied that the Democratic leaders, if permitted to go their way unmolested, will tie up the legislature indefinitely on the Senatorial question, he has within the past two days, in the interest of his party and his administration, made moves which he hopes will bring about a settlement of the difficulty next week.

Another step has been taken towards statehood for New Mexico, the House of Representatives having approved the constitution. Arizona's constitution has not yet reached Congress and cannot be acted upon at this session. Arizona will therefore not become a full-fledged state this year, unless there is action by an extra session.

The Appalachian-White Mountain bill has become a law, President Taft attaching his signature to it, and thus are concluded the efforts for that legislation which have been in progress for several years. It means the preservation of the forests of the Eastern mountain ranges.

It hardly seems possible, but the weather bureau at Boston reports that the past month was the warmest February since it began to keep its records, 41 years ago. The mean temperature was 34.4, and the nearest approach to that was in 1877, when the mean was 34. The range was from 4 to 56 degrees.

The vote on the Lorimer case in the Senate shows some interesting differences of opinion, not the least interesting being the fact that Republican senators from 13 states divided. On each side some of the oldest lawyers and most conscientious members of the Senate.

ART OBJECTS AT THE HOE SALE.

At the Hoe sale of art objects in New York $560 was paid for a French illuminated manuscript of the middle of the fifteenth century, or rather leaves from a French manuscript of the work of Alfonso de Spina, entitled "Les Fortresses de la Foi." It has been reproduced in smaller size in a work of Paul Lacroix's and is from the Firmin Didot collection. Another illustration, North Italian, of about 1500, brought $475. The upper part is decorated with a representation of the Resurrection and the lower with two bars of music painted in gold and colors. A fifteenth century manuscript illumination, showing the Italian influence and depicting "The Presentation in the Temple," went for $400 and for $500, another of the same period and style, with historical initials in oval form and representing the "Martyrdom of St. John the Evangelist," who stands in the cauldron of boiling oil.

Of the collection of fragile fans the highest price was $250. It was paid for a French eighteenth century fan painted on vellum and showing on the front a merry scene with groups of women and children and a young girl and man at a fountain. The next highest price for a fan was $220, given for a Louis XVI painted fan, with jewel fastener, executed in about 1770.

A German eighteenth century gold watch, made at Frankfort and decorated with enamel painting of landscapes in panels, signed "Les deux freres Hausautpelntres de son. A. E. de Grandaban," was sold for $510; a Dutch eighteenth century watch, with enamel paintings of mythological subjects by the Brothers Hunt, was sold for $400; an English seventeenth century watch for $380. A French eighteenth century gold watch, with fob, and an enamel painting on it, done after a kitchen interior, by that admirable painter of still life, Chardin, sold for $210. A buyer paid $410 for an English eighteenth century gold repeating watch and chatelaine, signed "Flowes," and $390 for another gold repeating watch of the same place and period, the chatelaine of which was particularly elaborate.

The most expensive miniature went for $400. It was a portrait of Louis XIV, by Petitot, signed and painted about 1700. $340 was paid for a miniature attributed to Nathaniel Plymer.

NEWPORTERS OPPOSE THE OSTEOPATHY BILL.

At the hearing before the house judiciary committee on the bill creating a state board of osteopathy, Dr. Clarence H. Wall of Providence, General Charles W. Abbot, ex-Lieutenant Governor Frederick H. Jackson, Alderman B. T. Moulton of Providence and others spoke in favor of the measure.

Dr. Gardner T. Swarts appeared against the bill, as a representative of the Rhode Island and other medical societies. He spoke strongly in opposition and explained the courses given at the osteopathic schools, declaring that they fall far short of those at the medical colleges. Other physicians also opposed the measure.

Dr. A. F. Squire of this city opposed the bill as class legislation, and Judge Robert M. Franklin of this city spoke against the act on its legal status.

AROUND RHODE ISLAND.

Corporations Make Last Day for Filing Tax Returns a Busy One.

New Highway Bridge Over Railroad at East Warren Opened for Travel.

The office of the collector of internal revenue in Providence was a busy place Wednesday, which was the last day allowed by law for the filing of returns for the corporation tax which will be assessed on the first of June. In the past two or three days fully 1,000 returns have been filed. Under the law passed August 5, 1909, corporations, joint stock companies or associations and insurance companies must pay a special excise tax once each year equivalent to one per cent of the entire net income over and above $5,000. Failure to make the specified return involves a fine of not less than $1,000 and not exceeding $10,000. Ordinarily the internal revenue clerks would not have been so busy at this time of the year, but the heads of corporations were expecting that the Supreme Court of the United States would hand down a decision on the constitutionality of the corporation tax law Monday. The decision did not come, and for this reason the officers of many companies were obliged to make haste to put their returns in. Last year about $26,000,000 was derived by the government as income from the corporation tax, about $3,000,000 of this coming from the district which includes Rhode Island and Connecticut. There are eight divisions of the section of the act which relates to the returns which are to be made. Briefly these are that returns shall be made by corporations on the total amount of paid-up capital outstanding at the close of the year, on the gross amount of income received during the year, on the total amount of necessary expenses paid out of earnings, on the total amount of all losses actually sustained during the year, not compensated by insurance or otherwise; on the amount of interest on bonded or other indebtedness, on the amount paid during the year for taxes and on the net income. Assessments are made by the commissioner of internal revenue on or before June 1, and must be paid on or before June 30.

Warren is now in possession of an up-to-date highway bridge, passing over the New Haven Railroad line in East Warren, the first of a number of new steel structures to be erected along the line in Warren and Barrington. The new steel bridge over the railroad at Long lane was completed Wednesday and accepted by Highway Surveyor Barry in behalf of the town. The expense of construction was borne by the company. The structure is 20 feet wide and has a length to approaches of 90 feet, with a rise of 19 feet above the tracks of the line of the railroad. There are guard rails on each side and the bridge is substantial in every way. Creosoted planking forms the wagon-way foundation, with lighter planking attached to the surface for a driveway. The bridge is open for traffic. It is expected that a double line railroad will be in operation between Warren and Touisset station for the first time on Memorial Day, and then the company will turn its attention to erecting a new steel bridge at East Warren, at Metacom avenue, to eliminate the grade crossing of the New Haven Railroad there.

The forcible entry and detainer proceedings under which the town of East Greenwich sought to acquire possession of the schoolhouse in district No. 2 in that town were quashed Wednesday by an opinion of the supreme court, handed down by Judge Blodgett, who says several errors were made in the bringing of the action and the trial. The town of East Greenwich failed for a time to maintain a school in the schoolhouse in question, and Napoleon Guenond, a man employed by the owner of the farm surrounding the school lot, occupied the building as a dwelling. Children increased in the district, and the East Greenwich school committee deemed it wise to re-open a school. Finding Guenond in possession of the schoolhouse, the town council voted September 29, 1910, that Town Sergeant Murray should take steps to eject all persons in possession. The action of forcible entry and detainer was begun shortly thereafter, and a special jury was summoned to try the case. Judge Blodgett holds that the proceedings were unlawful because John H. Murray was substituted for the town of East Greenwich as complainant in the case, and furthermore the provision of the statute requiring that the complainant shall pay the jurors for their attendance and travel before the verdict was not complied with. The supreme court decides that the defendant's bill of exceptions must be dismissed for lack of jurisdiction.

Stephen J. Casey was appointed temporary receiver of the Imperial Silk Mills Company of Pawtucket by Judge George T. Brown of the superior court Wednesday afternoon, with bond fixed at $10,000. The petition for the appointment of a receiver was filed by William W. Harrison, Francis J. Barry and James F. Barry, who hold the 3,000 shares of the corporation's common stock. Walter Callender, who owns the preferred stock, which is divided into 50 shares, did not join the common stockholders in the petition. The ostensible purpose of the appointment of a receiver is to wind up the affairs of the concern, which has been running about two years. The machinery ceased running three weeks ago, owing to the dullness of the market and high cost of material. It was stated that the business failed to produce profits and the temporary receiver estimates the liabilities at $14,000 with assets worth half that sum. The temporary receiver was appointed by Judge Brown without a hearing of all the parties interested, but on the ex-parte petition of the common stockholders who represented that the corporation was insolvent.

Stiff fines were imposed Wednesday upon George E. Kearins, aged 18, a Western Union Telegraph Company clerk, and John U. Fitzgerald, aged 20, from whom Kearins is said to have secured the drug, as the result of the arrest of the two men for selling cocaine. Kearins was arraigned before the Sixth District court and fined $50 and costs on each of two counts of selling the drug to Patrolmen Bowen and Clarke, by whom he was arrested. Meanwhile Fitzgerald was haled before the superior court to answer to two old charges of a similar nature on which sentence was suspended at the time of his previous appearance before that tribunal. Fitzgerald was fined $100 and costs in each case, the maximum penalty.

The parishioners of the Central Baptist Church, Providence, gave a reception Wednesday evening complimentary to their new pastor, Rev. Clarence M. Gallup and Mrs. Gallup. The affair was in the nature of a welcome and fully 150 members and friends were present. The room was decorated with palms, roses and carnations, the parlors furnishing a background for the receiving party in which were Rev. and Mrs. Gallup, General and Mrs. Elisha H. Rhodes and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Hartwell.

A Senator who has read the letter sent by Senator Aldrich to President Taft, regarding the pending Canadian reciprocity legislation, said it consists of an expression of Mr. Aldrich's opinion that the bill should have been promptly reported from the finance committee, and that it should be brought to a vote before the close of the present session. The letter was sent in reply to a long communication from the President to Mr. Aldrich.

A new wage agreement, covering a period of five years, has been signed by the Westerly granite manufacturers and the local branch of the International Granite Cutters' Union. The cutters demanded 43 cents an hour, a raise of three cents. The compromise agreement gives them 40½ cents an hour, which is ½ cent higher than the rate paid at Barre, Vt., and Quincy, Mass.

A CHEERFUL GIVER.

[Lippincott's.]

The father of a Germantown lad had given him a 10-cent piece and a quarter of a dollar, telling him that he might put one or the other on the church's contribution plate.

At dinner the father asked the boy which coin he had given.

"Well, Father," explained the youngster, "at first it seemed to me that I ought to put the quarter on the plate; but just in time I remembered the saying, 'The Lord loveth a cheerful giver,' and I knew I could give the 10-cent piece a great deal more cheerfully. So I put that in."

THE WEATHER.

BOSTON, March 2.—Forecast for Boston and vicinity—Fair and colder tonight; Friday fair; moderate westerly winds.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

The disturbance that was in the vicinity of Lake Superior yesterday has moved eastward to the lower St. Lawrence valley. It has produced scattered light snows in the Lake region and northern New England. There has also been scattered showers reported from some of the middle and south Atlantic states, but the slight depression that was noted there yesterday has disappeared. The weather is generally fair in the western half of the country. The ridge of high pressure in the west has diminished. The temperature is higher in Atlantic coast states and the Maritime provinces. Cold weather has appeared over Lake Superior. In New York at 8 a. m. it was 34, Washington 36, Jacksonville 58, St. Louis 28, Chicago 34, Denver 30 and San Francisco 42.

IN HONOR OF OGDEN DAY.

Colored Odd Fellows Pay Homage to the Memory of the Founder of the Order.

Canonchet Lodge, No. 2439, G. U. O. O. F., assisted by the members of Household of Ruth, No. 501, and Newport Patriarchic, No. 92, paid homage to the memory of Peter Ogden, founder of the order of colored Odd Fellows in this country, by a gathering at Canonchet hall Wednesday evening, when addresses were made by prominent members of the colored race in Newport and in the order. There was a large number of members of the several branches present, and the program was of an interesting character.

The meeting was presided over by Past Noble Grand Franklin P. Wright, as master of ceremonies. In opening he called up Rev. W. B. Reed, pastor of the Mt. Olivet Baptist Church, to offer prayer. The opening ode was sung and Past Noble Father David A. Crockett read the proclamation of District Grand Master T. D. Solomon, calling upon the subordinate lodges to observe the day in memory of Peter Ogden. An oration on the founder of the order was given by Rev. William H. Thomas, D. D., pastor of the Mt. Zion African Methodist Episcopal Church; Colonel David B. Allen, commanding officer of the Seventh Patriarchic Regiment of New England, spoke on Odd Fellowship; Dr. Marcus F. Wheatland along similar lines, and Mr. C. F. D. Fayerweather of the history of Canonchet Lodge, giving an interesting account of the organization, in which he has been active from the beginning. Interspersed between the addresses were vocal solos by Mrs. E. O. Jackson, James O. Clarke Alexander Cole and Miss E. L. Pender; a duet by Alexander Black and Mrs. Russell Phillips, a reading by Miss Smith and an instrumental selection by the Messrs. quartet. Light refreshments were served at the close.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—"The Breakers," it is reported on authority, will not be occupied next season.

—Simeon Hazard has rented to Alfred Johnson the cottage of Seth Deblois on Underwood court.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. H. P. Gilbert of New York have given up their lease of the Morrell cottage at Ochre Point.

—Herbert L. Dyer has rented for Mrs. Harriet Burkinshaw the cottage at 51 Powell avenue to Stephen Donely, U. S. N.

—Surgeon William L. Irvine, U. S. N., of the Marietta, is on a short vacation and with Mrs. Irvine is visiting in this city.

—A large quantity of supplies for the Training and Torpedo Stations are at the depot and being rapidly carted to their destination.

—M. R. Sheedy of the Freebody Park theatre and James H. Donovan have leased the Woonsocket theatre and will make improvements before reopening it.

—Rev. Emery Porter, D. D., of Emanuel Church, will address a meeting in St. James Church, Hall, River this evening. The Girls' Friendly will attend in a body.

—D. Hoit & Eldridge have rented for A. L. Audrain office rooms on the second floor in the building on Bellevue avenue to Mollie O'Hara of New York, for the coming season.

—C. H. Welsh, A. F. Biesel and T. R. Leary of Philadelphia; R. D. Hassell and E. G. Cushing of Boston, R. D. Williams of New York and F. H. Gale of Providence are registered at the Perry House.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. A. LeBrun, their son Gerald and daughter Helen left today for Cape Breton, Canada, after a six weeks' visit to Mrs. LeBrun's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fitzgerald, on Prospect Hill street.

—In the list of members of the women's missions jubilee committee the names of Mrs. Herbert T. Sheffield, representing the First Baptist Church, and Mrs. John S. Kimber, representing the Friends', were omitted.

—J. B. Parsonage & Son have sold for Mary Boylock the three-tenement house and lot, bounded north, 100 feet, by land of Thomas Kivlehen; east, by Thames street, south, 100 feet, by Potter street, and west by the O'Brien estate, to Mary Reynolds.

—Mr. Henry Bull, in making a recent inspection of his house on Bull street, found two leather fire buckets, numbered one and two and labelled 1811. They are in good order and marked "H. Bull." They descended to Mr. Bull from his grandfather.

—It was thought that Wednesday, when the milkman visited the City Hall in regard to the milk regulations, the owner would be found for a glove which had apparently been dropped by a milkman. At least that is the way the officials at the City Hall had things sized up, but the glove is still there.

—The Board of Aldermen will hold its weekly meeting this evening and the committee on new site for the police station will also have a meeting. On account of the tie-up in the ferry line at Providence, it is a question if the committee will be in a position to make a report at the next meeting of the Council.

—The weather seems on the verge of another change. There was one there Wednesday, in the spring-like direction; this morning was fine, and the early afternoon was a good baby carriage day on Thames street. Later it was threatening, the wind has shifted from southwest to northwest, and it promises not to be so pleasant.

—William Lofius has sold for Fred P. Webber and Minerva H. Webber the property at 19 Gibbs avenue, bounded northerly, 60 feet, by land of John P. Peckham; easterly, 41 feet, by Gibbs avenue; southerly, 60 feet, by Gardiner street, and westerly, 44 feet, by land of Annie Gladding, to James V. Jacobson and wife.

—Simon Hart has an exhibition in his window from the collection of ex-Mayor D. B. Fearing, the horn of a narwhal, 6 feet 7 inches long. It is unusual to find a specimen complete, as this one is. It was found by Mr. Fearing in Dundee, Scotland. Also a pair of walrus tusks, two sword-fish swords, and a saw of a sawfish, all of which are fine specimens.

—The "Three Singing Comiques," a trio of male voices, are at the Bijou Theatre; also the musical tableaux, in which duets of the old Scotch songs in costume, are rendered. There are also illustrated songs. The pictures consist of "A Wreath of Orange Blossoms," one of the latest Biograph productions; "Age vs. Youth," and a comedy by the Edison company, entitled "The Lover and the Count."

—The ice cutting by the Arctic company came to an unexpected close Wednesday at Green End pond. The ice was a trifle thin and the wind so much that it bothered the workers so much that work was suspended. The independent company is still cutting at the north end of the pond, where the ice is thicker and there is not so much swash from the heavy wind.

REIGN OF TERROR PREVAILS IN CHINA.

Starving Refugees Plunder the Stricken Districts.

A Band of Looters Reported as Burned to Death at Kunshan.

VICTORIA, B. C., March 2.—Rendered desperate by hunger, hands of hundreds of starving refugees are roving through the famine stricken districts of China, plundering and killing, and a reign of terror prevails, according to persons arriving here on the Timba Maru, which reached port from the Orient yesterday.

At Kunshan, a walled village within 50 miles of Shanghai, the villagers, after a desperate raid in which stores were looted and many killed, meted out punishment peculiarly Chinese in its callousness to the raiding refugees. A band of more than 500 are reported to have been surrounded in a compound and burned to death.

The refugees had taken possession of Kunshan and for two days ransacked the stores of everything eatable, killing or wounding all who resisted. Some of the villagers were taken prisoners and held for ransom. When the raiders moved on to plunder the next village the Kunshan people had a council of war and offered to pursue the fugitives. They came up with them in a small village and surrounded the houses. The gates were locked and the houses fired. The refugees brought five prisoners into the compound. In view of the siegers, and threatened to kill them unless the siege was raised and on the villagers pressing them back to the burning buildings, they slowly hacked the five men to death. Three other prisoners were tied to stakes in the burning building and were burned with their captors.

TO BE AHEAD OF JAPAN.

Russia Soon to Take Steps to Annex Northern Manchuria.

VICTORIA, B. C., March 2.—The Zabaikalskoya Nov, a Russian paper published at Chita, says it is likely that Russia soon will take steps to annex northern Manchuria, because of a reputed intention of Japan to secure southern Manchuria next year. The Russian writer, whose article was translated by a Japanese newspaper brought here by the Tamba Maru, says the annexation of southern Manchuria by Japan is delayed only by the failure to connect up the Antung-Mukden railroad, and that when the Wiju bridge is completed, next year, Japan will be ready to proceed with her program.

EXTENT OF POWER OF COURTS.

Question Raised Regarding Examination of Books of Corporations.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The extent of the power of the courts of the land to examine the books of corporations is the question raised in a series of cases before the Supreme Court of the United States for argument.

William Dreir, secretary of the Lichtenstein Millinery Company of New York, and Christopher C. Wilson, president of the United Wireless Telegraph Company, a Maine corporation, have both been declared in contempt of court in New York, because they prevented the grand jury from examining books of their respective corporations. In the former case the grand jury was investigating certain violations of the customs law. In the latter the grand jury was inquiring into alleged violations of the postal laws.

In each case examination of the books by the grand jury was refused on the ground that they might tend to incriminate. Each man is still claiming that to compel him to give up the books would be to interfere with his constitutional right, not to testify against himself. Dreir was subpoenaed in name, but the government claims that he was subpoenaed in his representative and not his personal capacity.

In the Wilson case the United Wireless Company was addressed in the subpoenae without mention of any individual. It was asked to produce certain books. "In regard to an alleged volaton of the statutes of the United States, by Christopher C. Wilson." Copies of the subpoenae were delivered to various officers of the company. Wilson answered the subpoenae and was adjudged in contempt when he refused to produce the books or to turn them over to the company to produce. The government claims that no wrong Wilson may have committed had vested him with the custody and control of the company's books against the company's will, or made them his own to suppress or to destroy.

TO EVERY HOTEL BEDROOM.

The Gideons Order 100,000 Bibles for General Distribution.

NEW YORK, March 2.—One hundred thousand Bibles have been ordered for general distribution by the Gideons, as the members of the Christian Travelers' Association of America style themselves. The order is said to be the largest ever placed, and it forms part of a national plan to place a Bible in every hotel bedroom in the country. W. E. Henderson, national secretary of the Gideons, said here today that he had been promised one fourth of the order for San Francisco and the Pacific coast.

It is planned that the 25,000 Bibles, the largest number ever shipped at one time, shall reach San Francisco in time for the triennial convention of the International Sunday School Association, which is to be held the latter part of June. For every Bible there will be a member of the adult Bible classes of San Francisco to march through the streets in parade, a Gideon Bible in his hand, and at the end of the parade each marcher will build his Bible into a gigantic pyramid to be erected on the platform of the convention auditorium, there to stand as an object lesson while the convention is in session.

IN HALF A MILE FLIGHT.

Glenn Curtiss's Aviation Class of Army and Navy Officers at Work.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., March 2.—The aviation class of army and navy officers which Glenn H. Curtiss is instructing here, led by Lieutenant Paul W. Beck of the Thirtieth Infantry, one and all successively flew for half a mile, alighted, and then flew back to the hangar. Flights were made by Lieutenant Beck, Lieutenant Theodore G. Ellison of the navy, Lieutenants John C. Walker, Jr., Eighth Infantry, and George E. M. Kelly, Thirtieth Infantry.

DUNNE CLAIMS NOMINATION.

Canvass of Ballots Cast at Recent Primary in Chicago to be Begun.

CHICAGO, March 2.—Canvass of the ballots cast at Tuesday's primary will be begun today. Unofficial returns gave Carter H. Harrison a lead of 1,556 over Edward F. Dunne, for the Democratic nomination for mayor, but Dunne's managers claim that mistakes have been discovered in the police returns, and the official count will show that Dunne has a plurality.

Asked as to the reports that he would become an independent candidate if the official count of the votes indicated the nomination of Mr. Harrison, as already shown by the police returns, Mr. Dunne said, "Not a word as to that. That is a bridge which will be crossed when we get to it, if we ever do. I claim that I was nominated yesterday's primary and I am confident the canvass of the vote will bear out my claims."

The obtaining of the necessary signatures for an independent candidate (7,703) will be no small task, for the petition must be filed by March 15, and every signer must be a man who did not vote at Tuesday's primary.

UNJUSTLY CONVICTED.

Governor Hay of Washington Pardons Man Sentenced for Murder.

OLYMPIA, Wash., March 4.—Governor Hay last night announced the pardon of William Stewart, an Englishman sentenced to imprisonment for life, for murdering a companion near Index, Snohomish county, a year ago. The pardon was granted at the request of the British government, which investigated the case on Stewart's behalf. The investigation found that Stewart was intoxicated at the time of the crime. It is said also that there was no direct evidence of his guilt and the authorities incline to the opinion that he was unjustly convicted.

SIR JOHN MURRAY IMPROVED.

British Scientist to Soon Resume Lectures on the Ocean.

BOSTON, March 2.—Sir John Murray, the British scientist who was compelled to seek medical aid, while visiting in this city a month ago, has fully recovered. It was announced today that he would resume his course of lectures on the ocean March 13.

NOTORIOUS CANADIAN BANDIT.

Man Arrested in Connection With Train Robbery "Old Bill" Miner.

VANCOUVER, British Columbia, March 2.—The identification of the man arrested in connection with the express robbery at Gainesville, Ga., as "Old Bill" Miner, the notorious Canadian bandit, who escaped from the penitentiary at New Westminster, three years ago, is complete, according to a statement given out by the Dominion police here yesterday. The dominion authorities say they will bring Miner back to British Columbia, if the Georgia courts fail to convict him on the charge for which he is held there.

ORDER NOW IN EFFECT.

Locomotive Department of Lake Shore Road Decreases Wages.

TOLEDO, March 2.—A reduction of 10 per cent in the pay roll curtailment of the number of employes, and the working hours from ten to eight, has been ordered for the locomotive department of the Lake Shore Railroad, in Toledo. The order, which was effective today, involves a pay roll approximating $19,500 per month, and the pay envelopes of about 35 machinists and boilermakers, instructions are to lay off men wherever it is possible to do so. The places of the 15 boilermakers, who struck nearly two weeks ago, have been filled.

SPECIAL MEETING ALLOWED.

Question of Accepting Calumet Company's Offer to be Acted Upon.

BOSTON, March 2.—When the text of the temporary injunction issued by Judge Swane in the United States circuit court at Grand Rapids, Mich., yesterday, restraining the Calumet & Hecla Mining Co., from absorbing the Osceola Mining Company, was received here today, it was found that it did not forbid the holding of the special meeting of the Osceola stockholders in this city March 9. At that time the question of accepting the offer of the Calumet Company will be acted upon by the stockholders, and on that day and the two following days, eight other companies which the Calumet company seeks to absorb will also hold similar meetings.

NO MOTIVE FOR HIS ACT.

Paul Orchard, Son of Captain of the West Virginia, Takes His Own Life.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 2.—Paul Orchard, 22 years old, son of Captain John M. Orchard of cruiser West Virginia, committed suicide here last night, by drinking cyanide of potassium. His body was found by his sister, with whom he lived. Under the pillow of his bed was found a note addressed to the sister, reading as follows: "Good-bye, Daught. Good bye Pa. Love and good will to all."

No motive for the boy's act is known. He came here three months ago from the east. The West Virginia, with Captain Orchard on board, is at Bremerton.

EN ROUTE TO NEW YORK.

Minister of Finance in Diaz's Cabinet Finishes Work in Paris.

CHERBOURG, France, March 2.—Jose Ives Lemantour, minister of finance in the cabinet of President Diaz of Mexico, is a passenger on the North German Lloyd Kronprinze Wilhelm, which sailed for New York last night. Senator Limantour is accompanied by Senora Limantour, the improvement in whose health made it possible for them to begin their homeward journey. They left Paris yesterday to meet the steamer here.

In speaking of his expected return to Mexico recently, the minister said that he planned to proceed from New York, by water, to Yucatan, for a private visit there. He did not indicate when he would be likely to continue to the capital. The minister has been in Paris since last August. His mission was to place in Europe bonds in conversion of the Mexican national debt, to the amount of $110,000,000. One half of the issue has been placed, but the minister said he had decided not to dispose of the remainder at this time. His delay in returning home is explained by the illness of Senora Limantour. The Kronprinz Wilhelm is due in New York next Tuesday.

ANOTHER BOMB EXPLOSION.

About 30 Persons Injured in Heart of Italian Colony in New York.

NEW YORK, March 2.—With a roar which brought the population of 60 tenements to their feet and sent them scurrying in their bare feet to the streets, a dynamite bomb exploded early today in the heart of the East Side Italian colony, blowing off the greater part of the front of a five-story tenement at 307 East Forty-fifth street, and breaking every window pane for a radius of three blocks. Thirty persons were injured by falling debris or cut by broken glass.

On the ground floor of the building is a grocery store and a barber shop. The grocer and the barber live in the rear and both are accounted well to do by their neighbors. Both have received demands for money signed in the usual manner and accompanied during the past month by threats of death. The letters became so terrifying lately that the grocer has spent the nights in a chair near the doorway of his store, with a loaded shot gun across his knees.

He failed to see his visitors of today, however, when they passed his store in the early morning and dropped a burlap covered dynamite bomb quietly through the grating beneath his store windows. He suspected nothing until the explosion tore away the front of his store, threw him from his chair into the cellar, and wrecked the barber shop adjoining.

A policeman who was standing at a corner of the block and a half away was thrown by the concussion. He quickly regained his feet and sent in a call for the reserves. When they reached the scene they found fragments of the burlap wrapping of the bomb and the tin scrap which had held the explosive.

There was an explosion in the hall of the same building three months ago.

IN MAINE LEGISLATURE.

Reports on Resolve Favoring Reciprocity With Canada.

AUGUSTA, Maine, March 2.—Two reports on the resolve favoring reciprocity with Canada were made in the house today by the committee on federal relations, which divided six to three against the proposed agreement between the two countries. The minority report favored the passage of the resolve in a new draft which does not differ materially from the original.

The committee on banks and banking reported against the acts providing for a speedy audit of the liabilities of savings banks, providing that trustees of savings banks shall furnish bonds, and making the preferred stock of the Boston Holding Company a legal investment for Maine savings banks. The same committee reported favorably on the act providing for the verification of savings deposits and to regulate the investments of savings banks and trust companies.

"Legislation inexpedient" was the report of the federal relations committee on the resolution from the Massachusetts general court, declaring against extension of United States territory by conquest.

A favorable report was received on the act to compel any telephone company to make connections with any other such company applying for connections.

GREAT JOY IN ZION CITY.

Community Founded by Dowie Passes Into Hands of an Overseer.

CHICAGO, March 2.—Zion City, the community founded by the late John Alexander Dowie, passed from the federal court into the hands of William Vollva, overseer, yesterday. The payment of $750,000 to Judge Landis's court by Vollva's brokers to Gus P. Wilson, receiver for the estate, placed the $1,350,000 property in the hands of Vollva. From the moment the news reached the city founded by Dowie there were scenes of joy in the streets. Thousands of horns were brought out and blown as long as the men, women, and children behind them could muster the lung power. The transfer was accepted as the beginning of long promised "new era" under which Zion's factories and business enterprises are to yield great dividends to the citizens.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—Rev. William B. Meenan has gone to Hot Springs, Va.

—Mrs. Lorillard Spencer has returned from New York.

—Mr. Sanford T. Gladding is here from New York for a few days.

—Mrs. James B. Duerin is in Mexico with the Countess Festetics.

—Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish will give a dinner at her New York residence this evening.

—Mrs. William E. Glyn of New York is here to inspect her estate on Bellevue avenue.

—Mrs. William P. Douglass has taken possession of her new house on Park avenue, New York.

—The improvements to Mr. L. L. Lorillard's house on Catherine street are nearing completion.

—The Cushing estate on Ocean avenue will, as last season, be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Ames of North Easton, Mass.

—Mr. and Mrs. Frank K. Sturgis have returned to New York from Lenox, where their cottage has been kept open all winter.

—Mrs. John R. Drexel will leave New York Friday for Washington, and after a brief stay there will go to the Virginia Hot Springs.

—Registered at the United States Hotel are J. J. Fay of New York and A. A. McGill, J. Gonzales, A. G. Burkhardt and A. J. Lavery of Boston.

—Miss Bessie Peckham, who has been spending a week with her uncle, Mr. Howard Barker, and family, has returned to her home in Little Compton.

—Captain Tom Shea reports things quiet in the gunning line in the bay and adjacent waters. Ducks are not so plentiful as in some winters, but there is shooting, and sheldrake are about due.

—Mr. Walter Jeter, son of Rev. and Mrs. Henry N. Jeter, who has been seriously ill at his home on School Street, is considerably improved. His brother, Mr. Henry Leonard Jeter, who has been here two weeks, has returned to Washington.

—Miss Johanna T. Moore, who was prevented from speaking at the Shiloh Baptist Church two weeks ago by the storm, and is expected to speak there Friday evening, is 77 years old, and has been at work in the interest of the colored people since 1863.

—It looks like the beginning of a regular modern transportation service on Sullivan's wharf, where A. B. Tunning, who handles the travel to Fort Adams at night, is having a waiting room built on the float where the boat ties up. This is to be connected by telephone.

—Announcement is made from London of the birth of a son to Mrs. Cecil Baring, wife of the Hon. Cecil Baring, and daughter of the late Pierre Lorillard. Her first marriage to T. Suffren Timber was sundered by divorce. Her husband is next heir to the estate of his childless elder brother, Lord Revelstoke.

EXTRA SESSION PROBABLE.

No Likelihood of a Vote on the Canadian Reciprocity Treaty.

The Lorimer Case and Speeches by Prominent Men Have Drawn Crowds to the Senate.

(Washington Correspondence of The News.)

WASHINGTON, March 1.—An extra session of the Sixty-second Congress seems inevitable. Unless President Taft decides that such a session is inadvisable it will be called, for there is now no prospect of a vote upon the Canadian reciprocity treaty. The President has said he must have a vote or an extra session. The opponents of the reciprocity bill have met the issue with the declaration that there will not be a vote until there is ample discussion, which means talk until after March 4.

It has been my opinion that an extra session would be avoided by a compromise or by such an adjustment of all differences as has been made on all former occasions, but there has been a great deal of bad blood engendered by the differences between the President and members of his party, and it now looks as if there must be a fight to the finish. There is not now in sight any sort of compromise which will allow a vote on the Canadian agreement, and it is quite possible that many of the appropriation bills may fail, although everything objectionable in them might be withdrawn.

It has been many years since there has been such a pressure to see and hear what is going on in the United States Senate. More interest has been shown in the Lorimer case than in any contested election that has been before the Senate in years. There is nothing like romance in the career of Lorimer, which seems to excite a great deal of interest and sympathy. Then there have been many important speeches by the most prominent men in the Senate which drew the crowds.

In this last session of the Sixty-first Congress, which is drawing to a close, it is apparent that all legislation looking to conservation has been lost in the multitude of important matters that have pressed upon the statesmen for their consideration. It could scarcely be expected that questions involving so much discussion and difference of opinion could be considered when the far-reaching question of election of Senators by direct vote, the title of a Senator to his seat, the establishment of a permanent tariff board, the Canadian reciprocity agreement, the new treaty with Japan and that other vexatious problem, the rate on second class mail matter, were such live issues.

And then there were the appropriation bills—the supply measures providing money for the running expenses of the government for the fiscal year 1912. To many members of Congress these measures were considered of more importance than anything else. The House of Representatives worked earnestly upon them in the hope that they would be passed by the Senate without the necessity of an extra session. Usually it has been found that without extraneous matters all appropriation bills can be passed. That is possible at this writing.

In fact, both houses are so situated that they could pass the appropriation bills in the few days remaining between now and final adjournment, but they would simply be appropriation bills without riders and other legislation.

Although there is no hope of conservation legislation this session the fight for comprehensive legislation on this subject is not abandoned; it is merely postponed. Gifford Pinchot, who does not know the meaning of the word defeat, is continuing the fight as if it had not been interrupted by the important matters that intruded themselves upon the session. He will be on hand with conservation bills in the next Congress.

Congressman Robson of Alabama has been called the Japanese war scare. Every year when there was an opportunity he has declared that war with Japan was inevitable. He has called forth the old fable about the boy who cried "wolf, wolf," when there was no wolf, and it is asserted that some time when there is real danger he will not be heeded. Meanwhile the administration has negotiated a satisfactory treaty with Japan—that is, it is satisfactory to Japan.

The Appalachian forest bill was and should be known as the Weeks bill, for he was the father of it. What the Massachusetts Congressman really wanted was the preservation of the White Mountain forests, which it is expected will be accomplished under the bill recently passed. It is believed by Weeks that his bill is a long step in the direction of conservation.

RESULT OF ANARCHISTIC PLOT.

Emperor Donates $75,000 to the Poor of Japan from the Privy Purse.

VICTORIA B. C., March 2.—Advices were brought by the Tamba Mary last night that the emperor of Japan had donated $75,000 to the poor of Japan, from the privy purse. The bequest was accompanied by a rescript, in which the emperor said the changes taking place in national economics were making people apt to deviate into erroneous ways. The imperial gift caused much comment in the vernacular press, which suggested that the unprecedented action resulted from the recent anarchistic plot.

Bogus Cloth.

What is Paint? Some people think anything labelled "paint" is paint, but there's a difference, just as much as between one kind of cloth and another. Cloth nine-tenths cotton and one-tenth wool, is bogus cloth. Cloth all wool wears to the limit. Paint at a price between 75 Cents and $1.50 is like bogus cloth. The L. & M. Paint is all wool and wears to the limit. There's a reason.

THE GERM WHICH PRODUCES DANDRUFF

Finally Causes Baldness.—Kill the Germ and Save Your Hair.—Newbro's Herpicide Will Do It

Did you ever try to discover a reason for the dying of a valuable plant? You perhaps found that life was destroyed by some insect or parasite working about the roots and sapping away the elements which go to support plant life.

The dandruff germ exercises the same destructive influence upon the life of the hair. It forces its way down the follicle around the hair bulb and thus prevents the hair from getting proper nourishment. The hair dies and drops out.

Newbro's Herpicide prevents this by killing the germ. It also frees the scalp from the accumulations of dirt and scarf skin. With the removal of these obstacles to a clean, healthy scalp, the hair will grow naturally and luxuriantly.

Herpicide is known as the Original Dandruff Germ Destroyer.

One dollar size bottles are sold and guaranteed by all druggists.

Applications may be obtained at the better barber shops and hair dressing parlors.

Send 10c in postage or silver to The Herpicide Co., Dept. R., Detroit, Mich., for a nice sample of Herpicide and a booklet telling all about the hair.

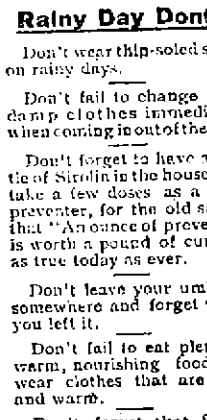
The Sirolin Sentinel

Sirolin (Pronounced Sir-o-lin): The celebrated Swiss remedy for coughs and colds.

NEWPORT, THURSDAY, MARCH 2, 1911.



Rainy Day Dont's

Don't wear thin-soled shoes on rainy days.

Don't fail to change your damp clothes immediately when coming in out of the rain.

Don't forget to have a bottle of Sirolin in the house, and take a few doses as a cold-preventer, for the old saying that "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure" is as true today as ever.

Don't leave your umbrella somewhere and forget where you left it.

Don't fail to eat plenty of warm, nourishing food and wear clothes that are loose and warm.

Don't forget that Sirolin has no depressing effect. It invigorates the system and kills the "blues."

Ask Your Druggist For Sirolin

Stop That Troublesome Cough.

Sirolin Will Do It.

This Famous Swiss Remedy Comes to America.

There are many people who expect to have a prolonged cold every Spring and Fall. They are accustomed to it, and regard its disagreeable symptoms as part of the inevitable annoyances of life.

They look for the attack to "wear off" in time—and it generally does.

But every long-standing cold leaves its weakening effects on the system, and especially on the delicate membranes of the lungs.

It turns the system into a fertile field for pneumonia, chronic catarrh, or that dread disease—Consumption.

The moral is:

Don't wait for a cold to "wear off." Break it up as soon as it begins.

Keep a Bottle of Sirolin at Home

Sirolin is the world's best remedy for coughs, colds, and other affections of the respiratory organs.

It is a preparation made by European chemists, and it has reached the highest mark of achievement in the successful treatment of pulmonary disorders.

Sirolin comes to America with an unequalled European reputation. A prominent physician says:

"The use of Sirolin for the treatment of colds, coughs and other affections of the lungs, is the greatest step forward in the treatment in these disorders that has been made in many years."

The difference in action between Sirolin and the ordinary remedy for colds is principally this:

The ordinary remedy—whether in the shape of a liquid, or pills, or tablets—gives a feeling of depression. It adds an additional weakness to an already lowered vitality. It affects the appetite and digestion unfavorably, and creates a sense of fullness in the head.

On the other hand—

Sirolin strengthens the system; enables it rapidly to throw off the effect of a cold; encourages the growth of new, healthy tissue; dispels the "blues," and relieves all distress almost immediately. It gives tone to the stomach, and builds up the appetite.

Sirolin contains no morphine, codeine, habit-forming or constipating drug

How Sirolin Relieves a Cough

It promotes a secretion which dissolves and expels the congested phlegm in the nasal and bronchial passages, thus promoting the expulsion of accumulated secretions. The cough is alleviated through the invigorating action of the Sirolin upon the mucous surfaces of the respiratory channels. The continued administration of Sirolin exerts a tonic and reconstructive influence upon the membranes until the tendency to cough ceases.

THE NEWLY FORMED FRENCH CABINET.

Labors of Premier Monis Crowned With Success.

Appearance of Delcasse in Cabinet Causes Alarm in Some Sections.

PARIS, March 2.—With one or two over-night changes the new French cabinet has been completed and was announced today, as follows:

Premier and Minister of the Interior—Antoine Ernest Monis.

Minister of Foreign Affairs—Jean Crappi.

Minister of War—Henri Maurice Berteaux.

Minister of Marine—Theophile Delcasse.

Minister of Finance—Joseph Caillaux.

Minister of Public Instruction—Jules Adolphe Theodore Steeg.

Minister of Public Works—Charles Dumont.

Minister of Agriculture—Jules Pams.

Minister of Colonies—Adolphe Messimy.

Minister of Labor—Paul Boncour.

Minister of Justice—Antoine Perrier.

Minister of Commerce—Louis F. A. P. Masse.

The under-secretaries are: Interior, Emile Cossiard; justice and worship, Louis Malvy; posts and telegraphs, Charles Chaumet; beaux arts, Henri Dujardin-Beaumetz.

M. Monis yesterday definitely accepted at the hands of President Fallieres the duty of forming a new cabinet succession to the Briand regime, and spent the day in strenous efforts to bring his ministers together. His labors appeared to be crowned with complete success and the list of ministers was sent to the Journal Official. At the last moment, however, came unexpected refusal by Jules Jeannenay and Francois Poirrier to accept the portfolios of Justice and Commerce, respectively. This necessitated a hurried recall of the list.

The new ministers met at the home of Premier Monis and outlined the principal feature of the program which the government will submit to the Chamber of Deputies.

The chief difficulty encountered by the premier was in finding a suitable head for the foreign office. Ex-Premier Ribot was first approached, but declined to serve. Then the portfolio was proffered to Senator Poincare, but he conditioned his acceptance on the inclusion of M. Millerand in the cabinet. M. Deselves, prefect of the Department of the Seine, was invited to take this office, but likewise without success.

Finally, M. Berteaux suggested M. Crappi as foreign minister, pointing to his brilliant role as minister of commerce in the tariff debates and the negotiations with the United States and other countries. M. Berteaux recalled that M. Crappi's speech in advocacy of commercial agreements had attracted great attention and added that just now commercial questions were the preponderating part of national relations. In the end M. Crappi was won over by the arguments presented by his colleagues, and accepted the post.

The appearance of Delcasse in the cabinet has caused alarm in some sections. Some of the newspapers declare that it would be better if he had remained in oblivion, charging that he menaced the peace of France and the peace of the world by attempting the isolation of Germany in connection with the Moroccan question in 1905.

IN STATE CONVENTION.

Republicans Meet at Saginaw, Mich., to Nominate Candidates for Office.

SAGINAW, Mich., March 2.—The Republican state convention met here today, to nominate two candidates for justice of the supreme court, two for regent of the university, two for members of the board of agriculture, a member of the state board of education, and a superintendent of public instruction.

Reciprocity overshadowed all other questions relating to the platform. Delegates from the farming districts were generally counted as being opposed to the Canadian treaty, and city delegates in favor of it. About midnight it was generally conceded that the reciprocity feature would be entirely omitted from the platform, but later, after a meeting of the state central committee, the general impression was that a reciprocity resolution of some sort would be presented.

AN AGREEMENT REACHED.

Strikers at the Thompson—Crocker Shoe Company to Return to Work.

LYNN, Mass., March 2.—A satisfactory adjustment of the strike of the 55 cutters employed at the factory of the Thompson-Crocker Shoe Company, in West Lynn, which was declared February 15, was reached today, and the strikers will return to work tomorrow. Although no official statement could be obtained, it is understood the company has granted the demand of the cutters for an increase of two cents a pair on Oxford shoes. The strikers are affiliated with the Knights of Labor and the strike was the first to be declared by Knights of Labor cutters in ten years.

PLATFORMS FAVORED THE DUTY.

Resolution Ratifying Income Tax Amendment in Constitution Killed.

CONCORD, N. H., March 2.—The New Hampshire state senate, by a vote of 13 to 9, killed this morning the resolution passed by the house, some weeks since ratifying the income tax amendment to the national constitution. Senators Merrill, Boutwell, Goodnow, Rich, Hayden and Pender, Republicans, and Senators Gerry, Preston, and Lawler, Democrats, voted for the amendment. Senators Cross of Colebrook, Cross of Concord, Hosford, Rogers, Cheney, Bean, Chapman, Leggett and Stevenson, Republicans and Senators Buptlil, Doe, A'Hearn, Jewell and Paul, Democrats, voted against the amendment. Both party platforms in this state contained declarations in favor of the income tax.

FORESTS WILL BE DESTROYED.

Pinchot Says Failure Will Follow Agricultural Appropriation Bill.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Complete destruction of the national forests, according to Gifford Pinchot, former chief forester and president of the National Conservation Association, will follow the passage of the agricultural appropriation bill, as amended by Senator Heyburn of Idaho yesterday. The statement was made today at the convention of the National Wholesale Lumber Dealers' Association.

The amendment to which Mr. Pinchot objected provides that all land upon which there is growing less than 400,000 feet of merchantable timber, in contiguous areas of not less than 150 acres, shall be excluded from the national forests. Mr. Heyburn had this amendment adopted as a compromise after a still more stringent one aimed at the forest service had been rejected. For years the Idaho has been a bitter enemy of the forest service, which the maintains is extravagant and abusive with its power.

"This amendment," said Mr. Pinchot "will exclude from the national forests every trac; on which trees have been or are being planted, every area where the mature timber has been harvested and young growth is coming back, every stretch of reproduction, substantially every body of trees less than 50 years old, (of which there are many millions of acres about to become commercially valuable), every mountain park, every watershed above timber line, every burned over area coming back into bearing, in fact every tract of every kind that is not covered with mature timber, and many that are."

Mr. Pinchot said Senator Warren of Wyoming and Representative Scott of Kansas were the principal conferees on the bill and urged the delegates to the convention to bring pressure at once to bear upon them to have the amendment inquestion eliminated.

MT. ST. MARY'S COLLEGE BURNED

Students and Instructors Escape from Institution Near Plainfield, N. J.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., March 2.—The main building of Mt. St. Mary's College, a large and well equipped Roman Catholic institution, on Watchung mountain near here, was burned early today, entailing a loss of more than $200,000. The nearly 250 students and sisters in the structure escaped in safety. The building is a four-story stone structure and the fire, which started from some unknown cause on an upper floor, spread rapidly, but the excellent discipline established enabled the sisters to assemble the pupils speedily, by the fire drill system, and march them out in order and without a mishap. There was more difficulty in removing several of the sisters who were ill, but quick work by the staff of the institution effected their rescue. The school is attended by some 200 pupils, young girls and small boys, mostly from wealthy families in cities all over this section. About two score sisters were attached to the institution as instructors, and in various capacities. The structure was a show place of the vicinity, owing to its commanding site, picturesque surroundings, and architectural excellence, and was fitted out in the best modern style.

The fire seems to have gotten under good headway before it was discovered and attempts to check the flames were then almost useless, as the distance from fire protection was too great for the firemen to combat the flames successfully on their arrival. The addition to the building, however, which contained the kitchens, laundries, etc., was saved.

There was little chance to save anything and the loss to the pupils from the burning of their effects will doubtless be heavy. The students, who were marched out in the cold, scantily clad, found temporary shelter in nearby buildings. The college moved here from Borden Town about four years ago, when the building burned today was erected.

LOSS REACHES $100,000,

Fire Breaks Out in Plant of Binghamton Papers.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., March 2.—Flames were discovered this morning in the plant of the Democratic News and Sunday Binghamtonian, which spread rapidly through the four-story building on State street, owned by the Binghamton Realty Company, destroying a large part of the plant of the Vail Ballou Book Company of Coshocton, Ohio. Willis Squerl, a printer, who was found at the foot of the stairway, was badly burned in his attempt to escape from the third floor of the annex. The fire spread to the main plant of the Vail Ballou Company, at the corner of State and Henry streets, but it was believed it could be controlled. The total loss is estimated at $100,000.

FLORENCE UNIVERSITY BURNEL.

Flames Completely Destroy Institution for Women in an Alabama City.

FLORENCE, Ala., March 2.—Flames that completely destroyed the Florence University for women drove screaming girls, scantily clad, from the blazing buildings at 3 o'clock this morning, and did damage amounting to more than $100,000.

SEEING ONLY WAS BELIEVING.

[Lippincott's.]

A trio of professional story tellers were off in a cosy corner of the club, spinning yarns. Brown had just told a most unbelievable story, and the other two glanced at each other questioningly.

"Well, I assure you, gentlemen," said Brown, "if I hadn't seen it my self I shouldn't have believed it."

"H'm—h'm—well," said one of the two doubtful ones, "you must remember, old man, that we didn't see it."

APPROPRIATION BILLS SET ASIDE.

say in their consideration. He would not, he said, object to a vote on the tariff board bill, but he could not see how it might be possible to give it more time than would be required for a vote. Mr. Hale agreed to request unanimous consent to vote on the tariff bill at 10 o'clock tonight.

Before Mr. Hale could take his seat Mr. Money said: "I cannot understand how this little measure can be regarded by any one as more important than the appropriation bills."

"But," said Mr. Hale, "you do not understand our troubles; we must yield or nothing can be done."

Replying, Mr. Money said that so far as he was concerned he would not object to a vote on the tariff measure, but he could not speak for other Democrats.

Mr. Root sugested an immediate vote, but the Chair decided to submit Mr. Hale's proposition to vote at 10 o'clock tonight, which carried the condition that there should be no debate.

Mr. Simmons would not agree, because he wished to speak, as, he said, he thought others did.

Mr. McCumber desired an assurance that there would be a vote in time to permit action by the House if necessary, but Mr. Simmons would not agree.

It having become evident that the Democrats would not yield to the perfunctory disposal of the bill, Mr. Hale peremptorily moved to proceed to its consideration. His motion was carried and the discussion began with a speech by Senator Smith of South Carolina.

Mr. Smith declared it was beneath the dignity of the United States senate to set aside the important appropriation bills in the last hours of the session to take up a non-essential measure.

At 1:35 Senator Bankhead (Dem.) moved that the debate on the tariff board bill be suspended and the post-office appropriation bill be taken up. The motion, by almost a party vote, was lost, 24 to 46. Senator Heyburn voted with the Democrats and Senators Newlands, Owen, Chamberlain and Davis with the Republicans.

At 2:25 Senator Simmons asked unanimous consent that appropriation bills be taken up after their passage the tariff board bill to be voted upon without further debate. Senator Beveridge objected.

At 2:40 Mr. Shively asked unanimous consent that the postoffice bill be taken up. Senator Beveridge objected.

Senator Bacon then moved that it be done and the roll was called. The motion was defeated, 31 to 25.

It was reported at that time that the Democrats had decided to move in this manner each of the appropriation bills in turn.

THE COFFEE MONOPOLY INQUIRY

Resolution Before House Regarding Investigation Into Alleged Trust.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The House today agreed to a privileged resolution from the judiciary committee asking the attorney general, if not incompatible with the public interest, to report to the House what investigation had been made to ascertain whether any foreign government or subordinate state has entered into a coffee monopoly conspiracy. The resolution was introduced by Representative Norris of Nebraska, and is directed toward obtaining information regarding an alleged arrangement between the Brazilian government, and the subordinate state of Sao Paulo, and a syndicate of foreigners, including Americans headed by J. P. Morgan & Co., for a monopoly in the coffee traffic of Brazil.

The resolution as adopted asks for a variety of information as to what steps the government has taken to determine whether the anti-trust and conspiracy laws have been violated, and the results of such steps. It also seeks to learn what prosecutions, if any, have been instituted. The introduction of the resolution caused a wild flurry in the New York coffee market some days ago.

LOST ACCOMPLISHMENTS.

[Christian Herald.]

There are women who look back regretfully on lost accomplishments and waning powers. They have dropped into the whirl of housekeeping, have been caught and held and have done nothing else. Others there are with as much to do as many children to care for and with means as small, who have resolutely raised a barrier against the waste of their mental powers and have continued to take in new ideas.

I can think of the wife of a minister who taught her boys Latin and prepared them for college over the mending basket and the kneading board. I remember a woman who amid varying fortunes including a battle with real poverty, never intermitted her piano practice. She is beyond 60 today, and her playing is up to date, so that she can still not only find delight in it herself, but is able to add much pleasure to a social evening, and at any time can aid at a concert, if required. Were it necessary she could march as thoroughly and successfully as the youngest recruit in the ranks. Do not permit moth and rust to invade the field of your life, dear sister woman! If you have already done so, change the situation at once.

II—Trading grew more active after the opening and prices declined 1 point or more on selling. Some of the specialties which recently had been under manipulation showed extreme weakness.

Noon—Selling during the morning session materially depressed stocks, which at midday had failed to rally to any appreciable extent from the low point. There was some liquidation, the effect of which was belated and by short selling. Professional traders, influenced by advices from Washington, that an extra session of Congress appeared inevitable, were disposed to be bearish. Reports of extensive financing contemplated by the St. Paul road was used as a reason for selling that stock. Bonds were irregular. Money on call, steady at 2½ per cent. Prime mercantile paper 4 to 4½ per cent. Exchanges $420,131,920; balances $15,671,531.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED.

Miss Florence Sheedy to Marry Mr. I. Townsend Burden, Jr. Well Known in Newport.

The engagement was announced in New York Wednesday of Miss Florence Sheedy, second daughter of Mr. Dennis Sheedy of Denver, Col., to Mr. I. Townsend Burden, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. I. Townsend Burden. The engagement was rumored at the time of Miss Sheedy's sister, Miss Marie J. Sheedy, to Mr. Robert L. Livingston of New York, in Denver February 13, but there was a denial from both families then. Mr. Burden, who is a close friend of Mr. Livingston, was an attendant at the wedding.

Miss Sheedy has been a frequent visitor in New York and it was there that she and Mr. Burden met. She was educated in the Academy of the Sisters of Mercy in Denver, and also in Europe. Her father is a man of large means, president of the Colorado National Bank of Denver, and Western manager of and a leading spirit in the International Smelting Company.

Mr. Burden is the only surviving son of Mr. and Mrs. Burden, who are prominent summer residents of Newport, owning "Fairlawn" on Bellevue avenue. He was graduated from Harvard in 1897 and is practicing law in New York, belonging to the Knickerbocker, the Racquet and other leading clubs. He is a brother of Misses Evelyn and Gwendolyn Burden. His brother, W. A. M. Burden, married Miss Florence Twombly, daughter of Mrs. Hamilton McK. Twombly, and died about two years ago.

The wedding of Miss Sheedy to Mr. Burden will take place in Denver late next month.

POLICE NEWS.

Two Fort Adams Soldiers Sentenced by Court-Martial for Complicity in Wire Larceny.

In the district court, police station division, this morning, a drunk was fined $2 and costs, and paying $4.80 was discharged. A man was fined $3 and costs for revelling, and not having the necessary $7.50 was not discharged. A woman, 81 years of age, was brought in on a charge of being insane. There was some evidence to show some of the traits likely in one whom age has more or less incapacitated, but the court hesitated to order her committed to the insane asylum and a continuance was given, to allow further observation and consideration.

Tiverton was represented by Lieutenant Grinnell, who had a prisoner charged with being drunk. The latter agreed that the charge was true and the court sold $8.20. His wife came forward and paid the bill, and he was released.

There was a report Wednesday evening that a man was speaking to women in the lower part of the city. A man was arrested and had apparently spoken to some women, but without intent to annoy them. He had drunk a little too much, and that seemed all there was to it.

From Fort Adams comes news of the sentence of Conroy and Butterworth, the two soldiers charged with complicity in the larceny of wire from Fort Adams. They were tried by a court-martial, and on being found guilty were sentenced to three years in a federal prison. Their cases were before the United States court, but were not made out, and they were then treated by court-martial. There was no doubt but the man who took the wire had assistance from inside and these two seemed to be the ones who gave the inside aid.

MIDDLETOWN.

(Regular correspondence of The News.)

A free illustrated lecture on Alaska is to be given at the Berkeley parish house early this month by Mr. Russell H. Neelas of St. George's School.

Mr. Edmund Spooner of East Greenwich, formerly of Middletown, has been guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alanson Spooner, on Wapping road.

An interesting open letter has been published in the recent issue of the Parish Leaflet of the Berkeley Memorial Chapel from Rev. John B. Diman who is at present in Rome. Mr. Diman and Miss Emily Diman are soon to be joined by their sister, Miss Louise Diman, the party returning in June. Their itinerary has included Boulogne, Paris, Munich, Strassburg, Vienna, Rome and Sicily. The past six weeks have been spent in Rome.

Mrs. Edward A. Brown entertained the Paradise Club at its March open date at her residence on West Main road Wednesday, the afternoon being spent mainly in progressive whist. A portion of the party made up three tables for whist and the remainder had a social time. A number of visitors were present. Light refreshments were served.

Rev. Emery H. Porter, D. D., rector of Emmanuel Church, Newport, was the afternoon speaker at the Ash Wednesday service at St. George's School. Among those who are to speak at the school during Lent are Rev. George McClellan Fiske, D. D., of St. Stephen's Church, Providence, and Rev. Stanley C. Hughes, of Trinity Church, Newport.

Mr. Alden C. Barker is spending a few days in Pawtucket, guest of his cousins, Messrs. Charles and William Carpenter, who with their families have spent many summers in Middletown.

SURPRISE PARTY AND WEDDING RECEPTION.

Councilman and Mrs. James Melliff were given a surprise party at their residence on Spring street by a number of the officers and members of the Ladies' Auxiliary of Division No. 2, Ancient Order of Hibernians, of which Mrs. Melliff is a member. It was in the form of a pancake party and was also a sort of wedding reception by the members to their newly married member. There was dancing, for which Master Wilson and Councilman Melliff furnished music on the violin, the latter surprising the visitors with his musical abilities. A collation was served.

ALFALFA IN RHODE ISLAND.

Experiments in Different Parts of the State Show Generally Encouraging Results.

In connection with the Farmers' Institute in Providence Wednesday the annual meeting of the Experiment Union was held in the afternoon, when officers were elected for the year. Joseph A. Peckham of Middletown was chosen treasurer and Augustus L. Wilbur of Middletown, a member of the executive committee.

"Alfalfa," the crop which many farmers believe is to revolutionize grass growing and the dairy industry in this state, held the place of honor at the afternoon session. Professor H. J. Wheeler of the Rhode Island Experiment Station at Kingston led off with a paper on the subject giving details as to the origin of the plant in other countries, the varieties which grow here and in other places, the difficulties in raising it and how to conduct the work.

Most interesting was the reading of the results of dozens of experiments, now going on in different parts of the State, to learn whether alfalfa will grow and thrive in Rhode Island. Most of those gave encouraging results the yields in tons per acre running up to three, and in some cases to more than four times a fair average hay crop in this state. Some also were complete failures, showing it was pointed out that in some places the soil simply would not grow the crop, while in others it seemed to be making a great success.

Isaac Lincoln Sherman, member of the State Board of Agriculture from the Rhode Island State Grange, presided at the afternoon session.

The cards from experimenters covered the state from Woonsocket to Block Island, and in most cases the results from the plots tried showed gratifying returns. On each farm where the experiment was tried three small plots, each one two-hundred-and-fortieth of an acre, were laid out, the soil was prepared, one plot without lime and the two others with different kinds of lime. Some plots were "inoculated" and some were not. The results varied all the way from a few of the plots where the director of the experiments, aided by a press representative were not able to find a single spear of the grass, to one which showed almost nine tons to the acre, a yield would make many a Rhode Island farmer go into the hay business at once. The best yield of all, which figured out at the rate of 8.97 tons to the acre, in the three cuttings, was on the farm of Joshua Cutting, was on the farm of Joshua over the state yields of four to six tons were shown and in nearly every case liming proved of immense help.

Among those who returned cards were Augustus L. Wilbur of Middletown, John C. Champlin of Block Island, William J. Peckham of Middletown.

President Howard Edwards of the Rhode Island State College presided at the evening session. "Practical Poultry Keeping" was discussed by Professor F. H. Stoneburn of the Connecticut Agricultural College, Storrs, Conn. Samuel Knowles of Lexington, Mass., gave some pointers on the subject of "Fancy Poultry, Breeding, Caring for and Preparation for the Show Room." "Modern Poultry Housing" was discussed by Professor D. J. Lambert of the Rhode Island State College.

"SEVEN DAYS" A COMEDY HIT.

The comedy, "Seven Days," by Mary Roberts Rinehart and Avery Hopwood, which Wagenhals & Kemper are to bring here with a New York cast, is said to be a duplicate of the famous Astor Theatre production. This is the play, which made such a hit in New York that it has been running there more than a year, the only comedy which has ever lasted a summer on Broadway, and which for six months ran in Chicago. It is an up-to-the-minute comedy of smart New Yorkers who meet for dinner and are quarantined for a week. As for the quality of the fun, the New York Tribune says: "'Seven Days' is screamingly funny. The audience laughed and laughed until they wished the actors would stop for awhile so the house might catch its breath. The world loves laughter. At 'Seven Days' it can laugh till it is weary."

WORK OF THE PACIFIC CRUISER FLEET.

Combined exercises to develop the efficiency of the Pacific armored cruiser fleet and the Pacific torpedo fleet in torpedo and tactical work have just been finished. These exercises occupied the latter part of February. During the first part of the month the Pacific fleet at San Diego, Cal., conducted rifle and revolver target practice on shore. A camp of sailors and marines from these vessels was established at Coronado under the command of Major C. S. Hill, U. S. M. C., fleet marine officer. The commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet, Rear Admiral Chauncey Thomas, has reported to the Navy Department that the experience gained during the encampment was instructive.

A CORRECTION.

To the Editor of the Daily News:

Dear Sir: Will you kindly allow me to correct a mistake made by your Middletown correspondent in announcing the engagement of Miss Louise Mason Hart to Mr. Edward Gesting Gladding. Mr. Gladding is the only son of the late Benjamin D. Gladding of this city, and grandson of the late Edward and Abby W. Gladding, also of this city. Mr. Benjamin D. Gladding was a brother of Mrs. Rodman Carr of Bakerville, South Dartmouth, Mass., and of Mr. Arthur B. Gladding and Mrs. George H. Freeborn of this city. Mrs. E. C. Bridgman of Morristown, Pa., formerly Miss Bessie Gladding of this city, is a sister of the groom-elect.

COW BREAKS THE WORLD'S RECORD.

Reports received from Professor F. L. Davis of Cornell are to the effect that W. J. Vosler's prize Holstein Friesian cow, Daisy Cornucopia Pauline, has established a new world's record by producing 35¾ pounds of butter in seven days. This exceeds by two pounds the former world's record held by Pontiac Glade. The new record holder is four years old.

ALGONKINS WIN AGAIN.

Tigers Fail to Settle Down to Work Until the Second Half, When It Is Too Late.

The Tigers dropped another place in the City Basket Ball League tournament Wednesday evening, losing to the Algonkins, 22 to 49, at the state armory. The Algonkins played a fast and aggressive game, but the Tigers did not settle down to work until the second half, when they made a better showing but were unable to overcome their opponents' lead. In the first half the Algonkins had it all their own way and at the end of the period the score was 16 to 6 in their favor. They made seven field goals and two goals from fouls, the Tigers having but two baskets and two foul goals. The Tigers came into the game in the second and scored 13 to their opponents' 6 points.

West was the best goal maker for the Tigers, although his work did not stand out as usual. Hickey did the best on the offensive for the Algonkins, scoring five goals, and Kyle was especially good in defense work. The line-up was as follows:

Algonkins.		Tigers
Fitz, Thompson, r. f.,		l. b., Voigt
Hickey, l. f.,		r. f., Murphy
Maher, c.,		c., Ring
Kyle, r. b.,		l. f., Kirwin
Underwood, l. b.,		r. f., West

Score—Algonkins 22; Tigers 19. Goals from floor—Thompson, Hickey, Maher, Kyle, Underwood; Murphy, Ring, Kirwin 2, West 3. Goals from fouls—Thompson, Hickey 2, Kyle; Murphy, Ring, West 3. Referees and umpires—M'Mahon and Harvey. Scorer—Johnson. Timers—Williams and Lee. Time—20-minute halves.

The standing in the tournament is as follows:

	Won	Lost	Per centage
St. Joseph's	12	4	.750
Father Mathew	10	5	.667
Algonkins	10	6	.625
Oakhads	6	7	.463
Tigers	6	8	.429
Y. M. C. A.	0	14	.000

The Naval Reserves are scheduled to play at the state armory in Fall River, Saturday evening, the final game of the season, against the strong Company 1 team of the Naval Reserves of that city.

BOWLING MATCHES.

Newports Defeat Portsmouth Team and the All Stars Beat Rovers in City League.

Two matches were rolled in the City Bowling League Wednesday evening the Newports defeating the Portsmouth team, and the All Stars the Rovers each in three straight strings. In the Newport-Portsmouth match the Newports took the first two strings easily by 53 and 33 pins, but the third was close, the winners having a margin of only two pins. Commette was high roller, with singles of 118 and 107 and a total of 307. Christian had a single of 110, and Milne 106. The individual and team scores were as follows:

TWO MONTHS FROM NEW JERSEY TO NEWPORT.

Schooners E. G. Gates and W. O. Nettleton are at the City wharf, with brick for the Army and Navy Young Men's Christian Association. The captain of the Nettleton, which arrived this morning, had a tale of woe similar to many a tale told by coasters during the winter months. He left New Jersey, bound for Newport, January 2, and reached Newport, March 2. Some things happened in the interim. He put into New Haven, and there he was nipped by the ice and carried up and carried down, and cut into so that repairs were necessary. The old schooner was made of good stuff and floated, and finally arrived here.

STRUCK BY AN AUTOMOBILE AND BY AN EXPRESS WAGON.

While playing on Spring street, near the foot of Levin street, this noon, the five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Child was struck by an automobile, operated by Mr. Herbert E. Bender, but was not seriously injured. The machine was moving slowly and the operator is not blamed for the accident. The boy was taken into a near-by store, and later to a doctor's office, but no serious injuries were found.

This noon, while standing on the edge of the sidewalk on Thames street, Mr. Michael H. Kearney was struck by a passing express wagon and thrown to the ground. He was not seriously injured but was considerably shaken by the fall. At last accounts he had been unable to learn the name of the driver.

PIE IN ART.

(Lippincott's.)

An artist in Chicago tells of a lady in that town, who with her maid, went to purchase a still-life picture for her dining room.

She selected a canvas on which were painted a bunch of flowers, a pie cut in two, and a roll, and was about to pay $25 for it when her maid approached to whisper in her ear.

"Excuse me, ma'am," said the servant, "but you are making a bad bargain. I saw a picture very much like this sold the other day for $15."

"And was it as good as this?"

"Better, ma'am. There was a good deal more pie in it."

MILK SITUATION CLEARING.

Committee and Board of Health Conference Removes Some Differences.

Bar Against Route on Which Scarlet Fever Originated Removed and Delivery Resumed.

The milkmen's committee held a three-hour conference with the Board of Health Wednesday afternoon, at which the new rules were gone over paragraph by paragraph, the committee and the board giving their understanding and views. The board will now consider the rules in the light in which the committee presented them, with such consideration for the city's safety as seems necessary, and when prepared to report will either call another meeting of the committee or send the report to them. The committee, having no powers, will transmit the deductions of the board to the milkmen's organization for approval or rejection.

It is a somewhat peculiar incident that the milkmen to a considerable proportion signed the required agreement to comply with the new rules and had their licenses sent to them, before they made their protest against the rules. Apparently the more prominent objectors were those who had not committed themselves to the rules.

One of the prime causes for objection appears to be the air space required in cow barns. This strikes many of the milkmen hard, because they are not owners but are simply tenants, and so are not in a position to increase the size of their barns as they might otherwise do. It is said that something like one third of the milkmen lease the farms which they occupy. Another difficulty is that perhaps they do not fully understand the modern ideas of air and ventilation, and feel that the requirements would burden them with an expense which they cannot afford, while those who claim to know say they can secure the desired results at slight cost. There are cases among the milkmen on the island where they have made improvements which seem to fill all requirements at a cost which is merely a trifle.

The meeting was entirely harmonious, though as each rule was taken up there was a full discussion wherever the committee offered the least objection. Many of the rules were passed on reading, since no member of the committee had any question to raise. In other cases it did not take long to find that the board and the milkmen had interpreted them differently, and when the board's interpretation had been rendered it stopped objection. The board gave its reasons for each rule and these often put a new light on the situation in the eyes of the committee, which consisted of William J. Peckham, Dennis J. Murphy, James H. Harker, Charles H. Ward and William E. Sisson.

The committee was given to understand that it was not the purpose of the board to work hardship upon the milkmen, and that it was making only what it believed to be just rules for the public safety. It seemed to be an accepted understanding that, while much of the milk which comes to Newport is of high standard and produced under healthy conditions, there is some which is not to be desired for distribution, because of the surroundings under which it is produced. The board, it was agreed, cannot well classify, and hence the only way is to make rules which apply to all alike, and thus perhaps bind some to a rule always met by other dealers.

The meeting was gratifying, from the fact that there was not the least friction during the long conference and both sides felt that they knew and understood the other better. The doctors on the board were inconvenienced in their day's work and the milkmen had their chores delayed, but both seemed glad they had been present.

The Board of Health Wednesday evening took action regarding the recent scarlet fever situation, so far as declaring the incident closed in respect to the milk route on which all the cases were located. It was voted to give the producer a clean bill of health and allow him to resume the delivery of milk which was stopped a week ago, the last time it having been both milked and delivered by other hands than those who usually attend to this work. The producer, Mr. J. E. Kline, the board agreed had met every one of its requirements regarding disinfection and sterilization, and from their own careful observation of the premises and the state veterinary's report on the recent inspection the members believe his supply is free from infection and the milk safe to use. He has met the board more than halfway in the whole case; in fact, at times exceeding the requests made.

Mr. Kline was at once notified of the decision of the board and resumed his delivery this morning, his customers welcoming his return. He has lost but two from the route, and these are families which are going away. He has been sympathized with over the telephone by many of the families in which the fever appeared, showing that even in those places there is a feeling that, whatever the cause of the contagion, it was nothing which could have been foreseen or prevented.

Under the rules of the board milk cannot be delivered to the places where cases have developed, bottle to be returned, until the period of infection has fully passed. Bottles which happen to be at these places cannot be delivered to any milkman, and if the orders of the board are carried out they will be broken before being placed in ash barrels, that the ashmen may not collect them and sell them to junk dealers.

The board is still of th opinion that the infection came wholly from one morning's delivery, and the cause they admit is not known and probably never will be known. The 16 cases, which are rated as average or light, are all doing well and it is simply a matter of time apparently when the whole thing will all be a matter of the past.

CHURCH ROLL-CALL.

Large and Sociable Gathering at the First M. E. Church, With an Historical Exhibit.

At the roll-call of the First Methodist Episcopal Church Wednesday evening there was a large and happy gathering, and the entire affair was of the most sociable character. Soon after 6:30 o'clock the members of the Ladies' Aid Society served an old-fashioned New England supper to a company so large that not quite all could be accommodated at the spacious tables spread in the Sunday School room. The supper was followed by a social half-hour, preceding the more formal exercises.

These, which after all were quite informal, were under the direction of the pastor, Rev. Joseph Cooper, who conducted a brief devotional service and made a short address of welcome. There was the singing from time to time of some of the old Methodist hymns, and the calling of the roll of members. Of these many responded in person and others by mail. Some simply answered "Present," others gave a Scripture verse, there were a few old-fashioned "testimonies," and longer speeches by official members upon different aspects of the church work. Two of the responses were especially notable. Mrs. Sadie Bailey King giving an alto solo, to the accompaniment of Miss Florence Allen, and Miss May Smythe a dramatic recitation.

As an interesting part of the program there was in one of the smaller rooms an exhibit of articles from the historical collections of the church, which are peculiarly full and rich. These included the records of the committee appointed in 1806 to build a Methodist "chapel" in Newport, some of the earlier records of the church proper, a framed ticket for the lottery which was proposed to raise funds for the erection of the building, but which was never actually drawn; portraits of bishops and others prominent in the denominations, old letters, and the four-volume scrap book which in recent years has been made an almost daily diary of the life of the church.
